

EL DIABLO - 1968

Here at Hinsdale, we are judged as students of Mathematics, Natural and Social Sciences, Languages and Practical and Fine Arts. From this judgment the world tries to evaluate us. These grades are supposed to give the world a picture of our potential abilities to survive in, and be productive members of society.

However, there is seldom any concrete evaluation made of the most important thing anyone can learn here: how well did the student get along with the people he came in contact with every day? How well did the individual student learn to live at peace with himself and others; did he learn to work to his highest level; what has he achieved by his own creative efforts? 2400 people are supposed to be learning and achieving these things 2400 different ways. The reason such a course cannot be included in the curriculum is that the complexity of personalities makes such a subject impossible to grade. It simply cannot be reduced to a number.

The only way to judge this more important area of a education of a student here at H.T. is to use a simple formula: has he performed to his maximum with excellence?

The 1968 El Diablo could not hope to judge its own staff, let alone the rest of the school. We can and have, however, recorded with words and pictures what the students did with this year; with the time, energy, abilities and attitudes each had to work with. The history of the clubs has been introduced to establish the character of the traditional Hinsdale High School. The happenings, sports and senior activities of 1967-68 are then put down on paper for future classes to study. We wanted to show that we learned about life every minute that we were here.

"Show us that life is not hopeless, that physical life is not an end in itself, that one is not fulfilled by getting a fast buck or a lucky break. Show us what life really is", echo the students at H.T., across our troubled land, and around the world.

Official U.S. Marine Corps Photograph

2400 searching young people long for self-fulfillment. Yet, they are too often uninformed to "dream the impossible dream", too undisciplined to "fight the unbeatable foe", too wrapped up in self-centered fear to "love pure and chaste from afar", too defeated with negative attitudes to "reach the unreachable star", and too often they have not been given confident, convincing answers to their questions from those who are supposed to know.

"To maximum with excellence" may be too positive, too revolutionary, too unthinkable, too absurd.

For it demands a genuine commitment from the individual towards responsible freedom.

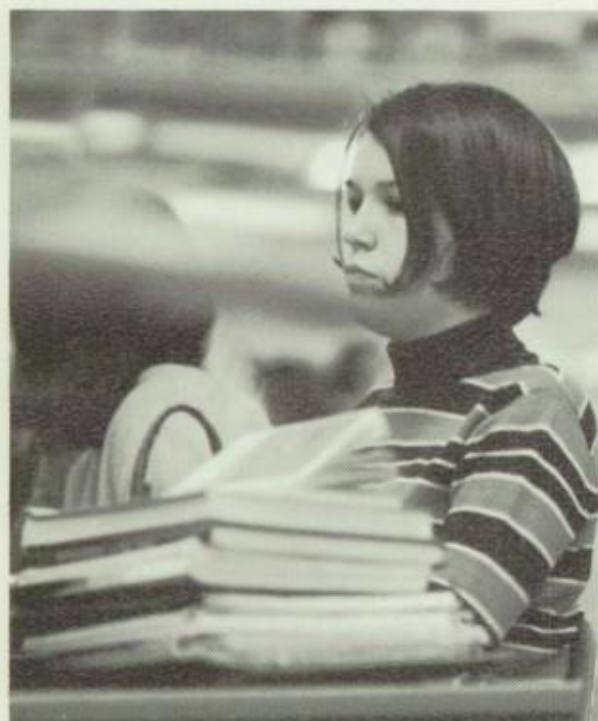

Some have already set goals and with sincere dedication and discipline they have achieved them.

These individuals proved that it is not enough just to dream idle dreams and reach for unearned stars.

These few willed to do the "impossible", the "absurd"...

. . . And, in doing so, freed themselves from boredom and from the slavery of conformity.

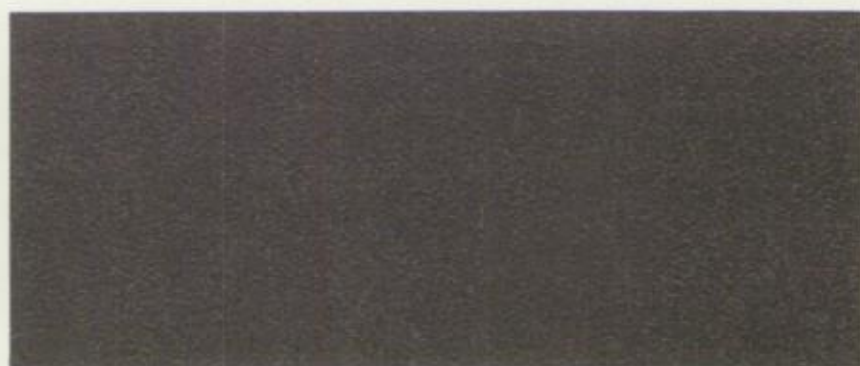

These people

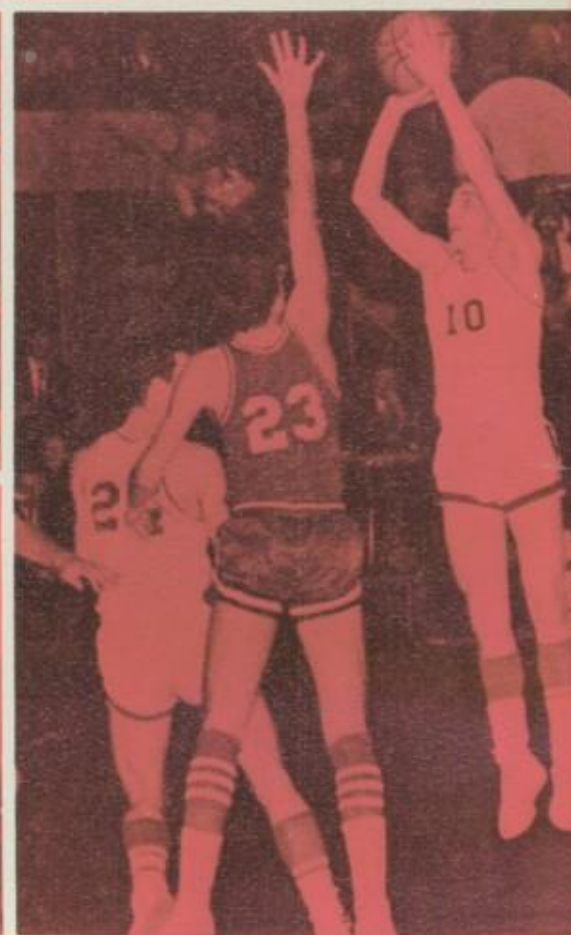

discovered an exciting, purposeful quality to life, available to each other student or faculty member who would dare to do the impossible, who would risk putting faith in the Unseen, who would resolve not to reject what for the moment they could not conceive.

Late streak highlights cage season

Battling back from what so far had been a disappointing season, the Red Devils suddenly came to life in the final weeks to win four straight contests before falling to Riverside-Brookfield in the state regional final at Proviso West.

HT broke a four-game losing streak on the Devils' home court with a 80-57 shellacking of Proviso West, insuring HT of a sixth place finish in the West Suburban Conference. Four Big Red starters finished in double figures.

Traveling to R-B, the Devils kept up their momentum by upsetting the Bulldogs, 71-61. The Devils survived 24 fouls in the game, losing two starters late in the fourth quarter.

HT kept going in the regional, defeating Morton East in the first round, 57-52. The Mustangs had previously beaten the Devils at Hinsdale, 60-59.

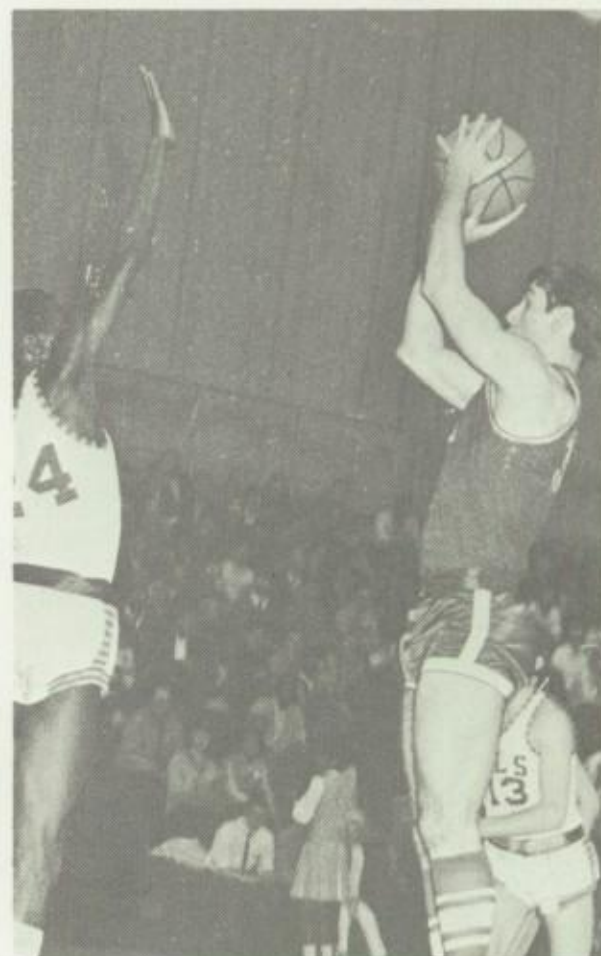

The Big Red's next game was against state ranked De La Salle. The Meteors were led by 6'9" LaRue Martin, an all-stater, but HT's forward line kept him away from the boards and actually out-rebounded the Meteors as the Devils won, 53-51. Jim Ruff and Bob Neilly sank key free throws in the waning moments to ice the victory.

The Red Devils had to face R-B in the final, and lost, 42-38. After leading, 14-9 at the end of the first period, HT was out-scored, 16-5 in the second stanza, and they never caught the Bulldogs after that.

Finishing with a 5-9 WSC record, and 8-13 overall, the Devils finished sixth in their conference. HT was plagued by a lack of shooting accuracy throughout the campaign. In their final weeks, they shot over 50 percent in four of their last five games.

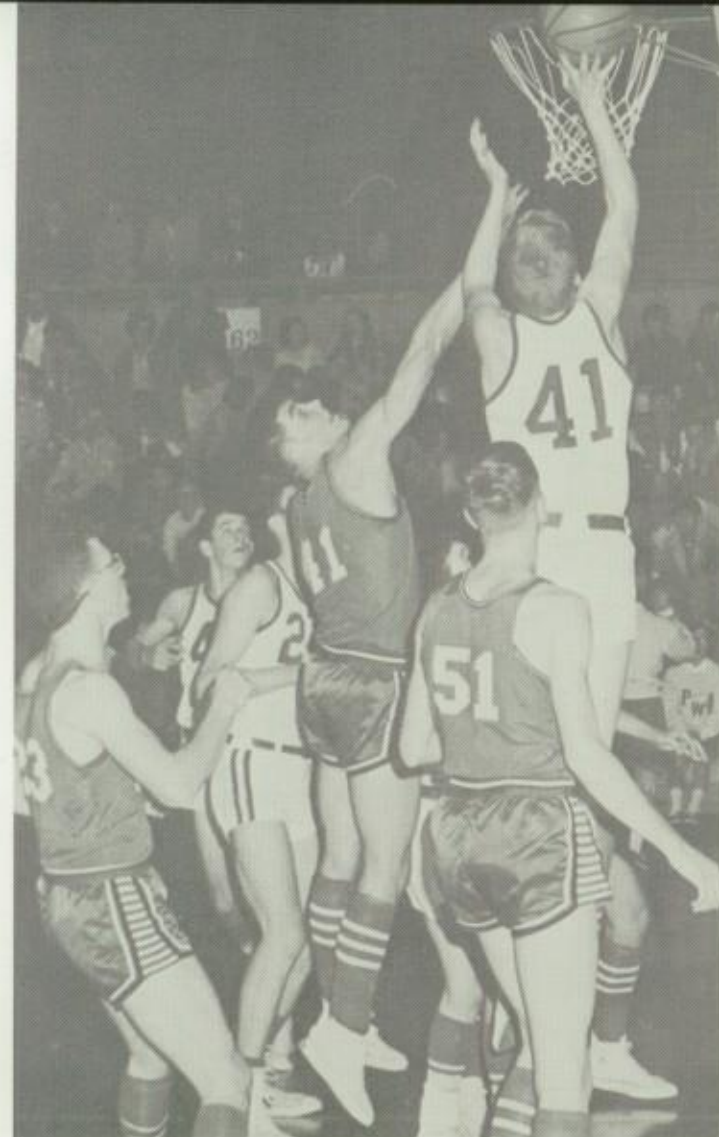

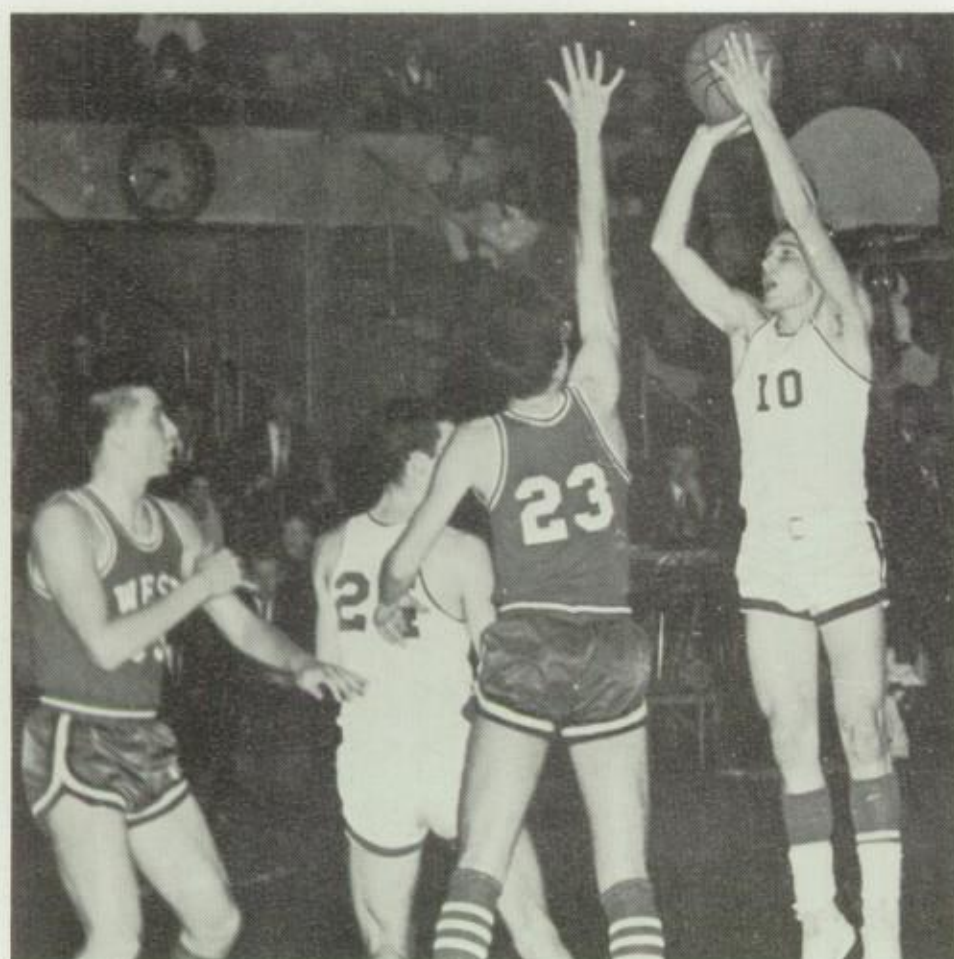

Center Dave Stone led the Devils in scoring with an average of 12 per game. Jim Tillson was right behind with 11.8 while Bob Neilly averaged 9.5 and Joe Ramey, 7.3.

Ramey and Neilly were the regular guards while Stone started at center. Tillson consistently started at one forward while Ed Watson, Larry Grandy and Jim Ruff took turns at the other forward.

Imps finish fifth in West Suburban

The Imps finished with a 7-7 West Suburban record, good for fifth place. Overall they were 10-8.

HT had two three-game winning streaks stopped by overtime defeats by Glenbard West. The Imps beat everyone twice that finished below them in the final WSC standings, but they could gather only one victory, a 50-46 win over R-B in the Imps' final game, against the top four teams.

Seemingly, the Imps went on streaks, some successful, some not so successful. After beating Oak Park and losing to Proviso East, HT lost to York, but defeated Carl Sandburg, Maine East and Downers Grove North. Glenbard stopped this streak, and the Imps went on to lose to LaGrange, interrupted the streak with a Proviso West victory, but then lost to R-B and York.

HT then beat Maine, slaughtered Morton East and Downers Grove North before meeting Glenbard again.

They then lost to LT before defeating Proviso and R-B in the season's last games.

Forward, Bill Schwieger, led the team with 245 points. Mike Flynn and Renny Swift followed with 208 and 164 respectively. Gary Rinck had 113.

Devils dominate state action

Hinsdale's varsity swimming team dominated state action, including the state meet to take first in Illinois for the second straight year.

The Red Devils set three records in the state meet enroute to beating their closest competitor, New Trier East, 191 to 136.

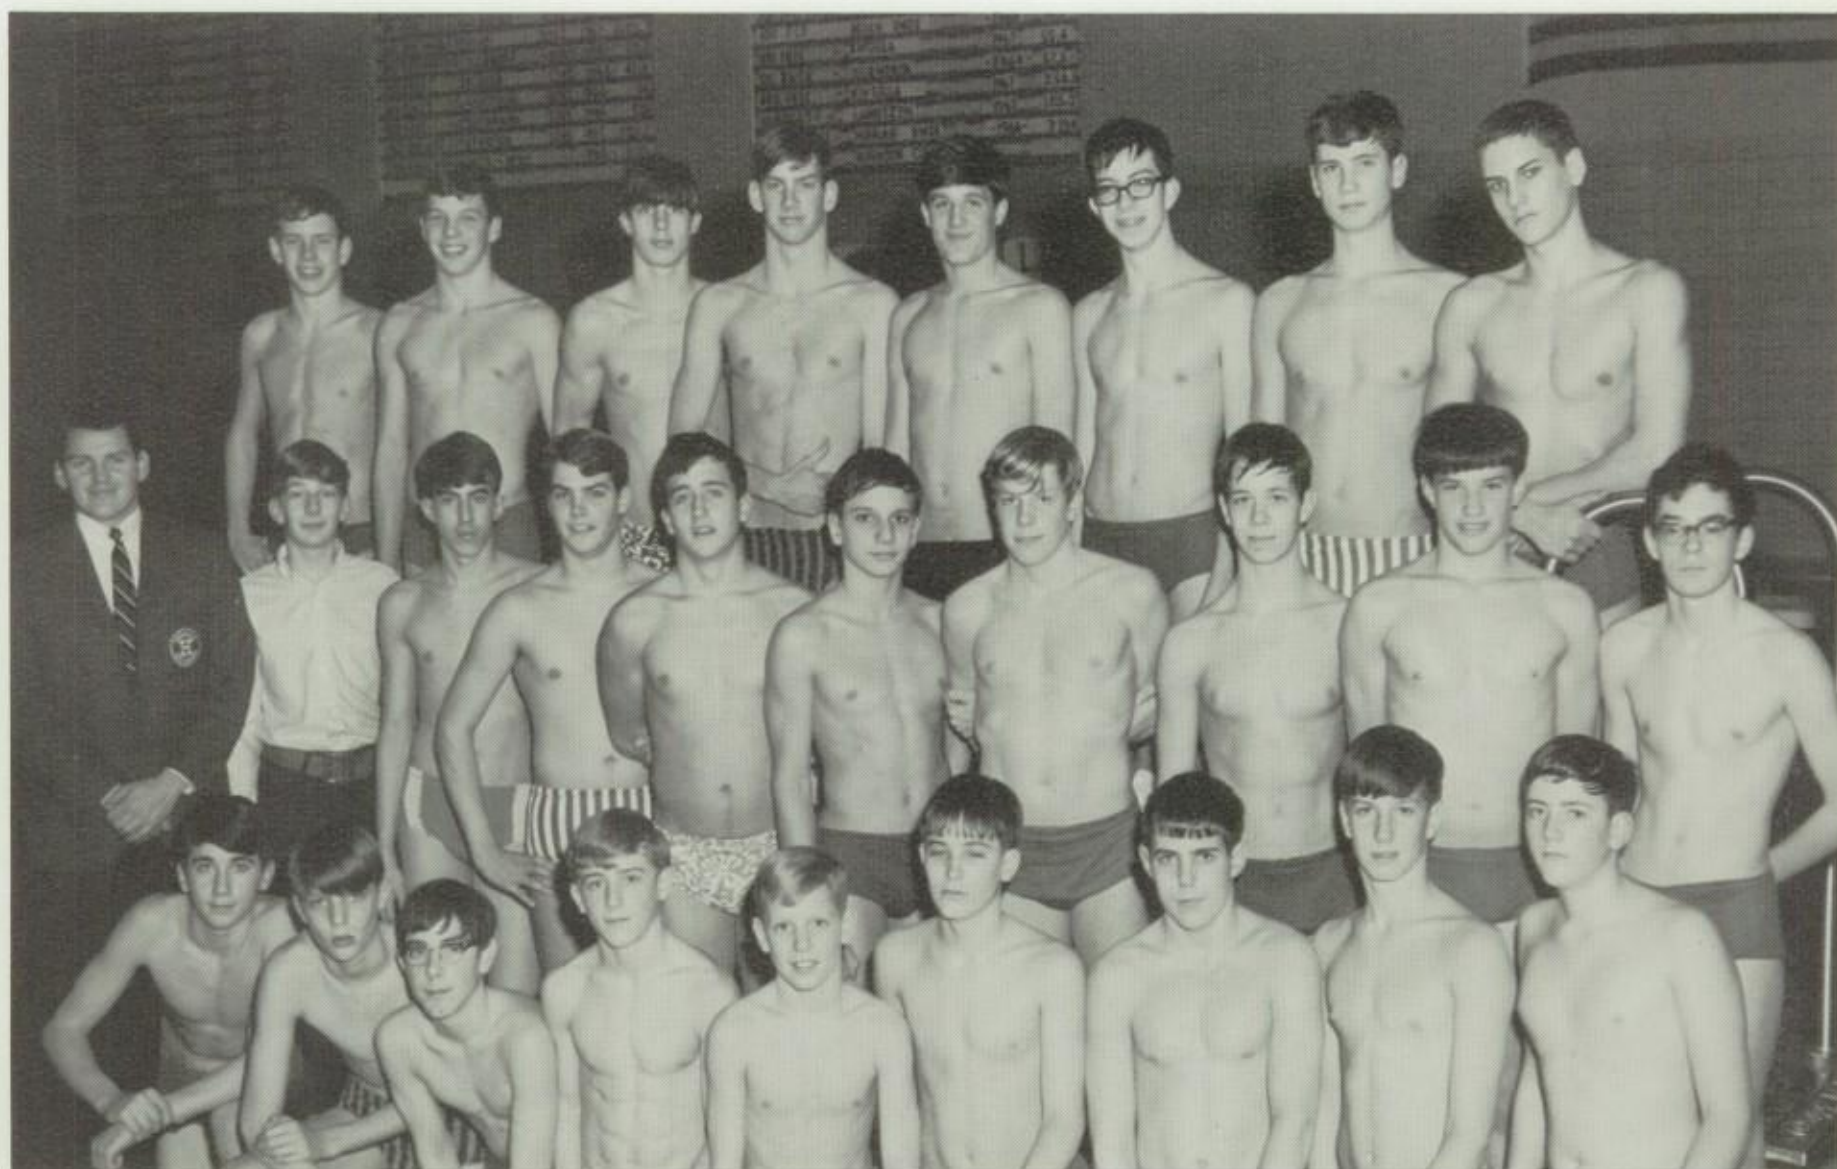

John Kinsella set a record in the 200-yard free style in the preliminaries, but he was beaten in the finals. Charlie Nieman beat teammate, Bill Lauritzen, in the most dramatic race of the day, the 200-yard individual medley. Lauritzen, however came back to set a new mark in the 200-yard breaststroke, and the 400-yard free style relay team of Nieman, Gary Ferraro, Brian Knox and Mark Lambert, also set a new state record.

The Red Devils extended their consecutive dual meet win streak to 31, winning 12 meets. Their only setback came at the Indian Relays at New Trier when the freshman Red Devils stayed home to compete in the Hinsdale Freshman Invitational.

Other finishers for the Red Devils included Knox, third in 100 butterfly, Kinsella, first in the 100 free, John Murphy, sixth in the 100-yard backstroke, Ferraro and Dave Druz, one two in the 400 free, Bruce Haffner, fifth in the breaststroke, and Jim Bere's fourth place finish in diving.

Imp tankers finish undefeated

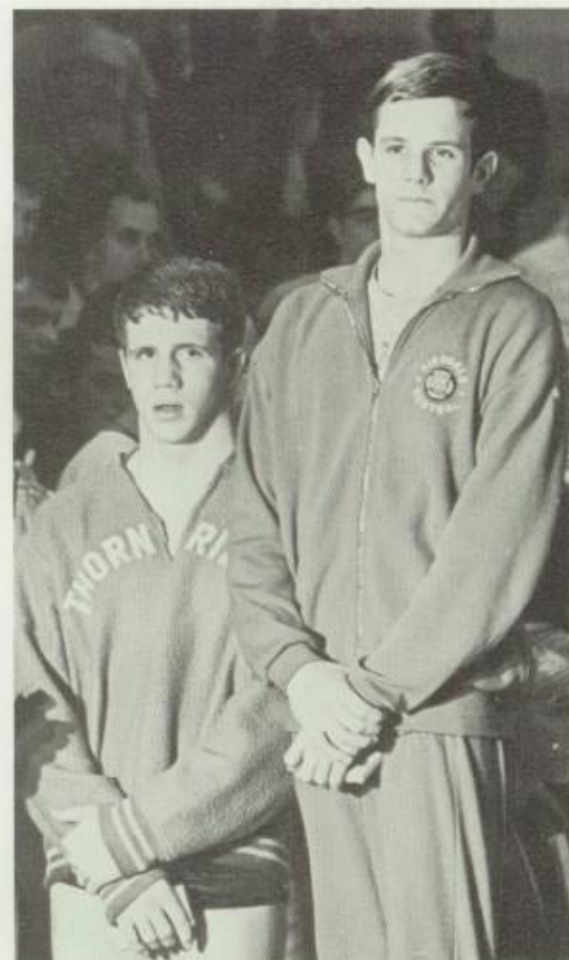

Hinsdale's sophomore tankers finished with a 10-0 dual meet record, won the West-Suburban Championship for the third straight year and contributed two sophomores to the varsity success in the state meet.

Reliable performers for the Imps included Randy Dann in the 50-yard free style, Marty Nieman in the 200 free, Flip Cochran and Dave Bere in diving, Jim Haffner in the 100 free and Rich Kaufman and Steve Koski in the backstroke.

John Kinsella and Gary Ferraro, both sophomores, spent most of their time on the varsity squad, and both contributed firsts in the state meet.

Wrestlers compile 2-11 record

Ending the season with a 2-11 record, HT's varsity wrestlers beat only Morton East and St. Joseph during the year.

They finished sixth in the Hinsdale Holiday Tournament and third in the Carl Sandburg Triangular.

John Shoenburger was the only Red Devil to advance out of the district tournament at Hinsdale South, and he lost in the first round of the Glenbard West sectional.

The junior varsity compiled a 3-9 record when they suffered a five-meet losing streak to end the season. Their victories came against Morton East, Downers Grove North, and Naperville.

Sophs end up at 4-7.

Hinsdale's sophomore wrestling team finished with a 4-7 overall record, 2-5 in the West Suburban Conference.

After being beaten solidly by Evergreen Park, the Imps came back to defeat Aurora West by four points. However, Proviso East trounced the HT entry, 13-41 in their next outing.

Starting conference play, HT squeaked past Downers Grove North, 22-21 but La Grange defeated the Imps by seven.

The HT sophomores then beat Proviso West and St. Joseph but lost four in a row to Riverside-Brookfield, Glenbard West, York and Maine East.

In addition to their dual meets, the HT Imps finished second in the Thornton Triangular and third in the Hinsdale Quadrangular.

Two Imps, Gorden Imrie and Greg Hoerich, competed with the Varsity in the district at the end of the year.

Devil streaks earn 10-8 slate.

HT's varsity baseball team won its first four straight and finished strong, defeating, their last five of six opponents to finish with a 10-8 record, the best slate in the last 15 years for an HT varsity squad.

Three players, shortstop Bob Neilly, outfielder Bill Heiden and Catcher Skip Korty were named to the all-conference team, the highest number of HT players ever to be named. These three players all hit better than .300, marking the first time an HT varsity squad has had that many .300 hitters.

The team batted .251, had a team earned run average of 2.70 and had a fielding percentage of .941.

The Red Devils started out strong with an 8-5 victory over Ridgewood. Their next win, 10-0 over Geneva, was highlighted by Bill Heiden's no-hitter in his first start of the year. St. Charles slipped past the Devils in a junior varsity game 8-6 on a seventh inning homer, but the Devils regained the winning trail with a 3-1 decision over Morton East at Hinsdale.

Starting conference play, HT got off on the right foot with their fourth straight varsity victory. Downers Grove North was the Victim, 7-5 as Bill Hardy picked up his third win.

However, there the Devil streak stopped as Glenbard West took advantage of 10 walks to beat HT 9-6. They turned the trick again three days later, 10-0. Proviso West came to HT undefeated, lost the first game, 5-3, but they salvaged the second, 2-0 despite Keith Jason's two hitter.

The devils then lost three in a row to La Grange, Riverside-Brookfield and Maine East. However, they beat Downers again, squeaked past La Grange and RB split with York and then beat Maine in the final game of the season, knocking the blue Demons into a first place tie with LaGrange. The Devils were 7-7 in the WSC in sixth place, only two games out of first.

Hinsdale South defeated Central, 5-1 in the regional opener when the Hornets got five runs in a highly disputed first inning.

The starting lineup included: Korty catching, Jamie Yeretsky at first, Scott Gamble at Second, Neilly at Short, Marty Gabriel and Bruce Elliot at third, Harold Mattes and Craig Heiden in left, Jay Kolka in center and Bill Heiden in right field.

Jason, Bill Heiden and Hardy formed the backbone of the pitching staff.

Korty and Bill Heiden were elected co-most valuables by the squad while Neill and Korty shared the honorary captainship.

Imps charge to 11-6-1 season.

Hinsdale's sophomores charged to a 11-6-1 season, one of the best sophomore baseball records in the past five years at HT.

The Imps finished 9-5 in the West Suburban Conference, good for second place, one game out of first. They were in the title race until the last weekend, when they split a doubleheader with York while Proviso West swept their two games.

The Imps started with a strong 15-2 victory over St. Charles after tying Geneva, 6-6.

Morton East beat the Imps, 11-6, but the Imps got back into winning ways with a 9-3 conquest of Downers Grove North, their first WSC opponent. After sweeping a doubleheader from Glenbard West and edging LaGrange, 1-0, the Imps faced a twin bill at Proviso West.

The Panthers won two close games, 4-2 and 3-1. The Imps came back on Wednesday, beating Riverside-Brookfield, 8-7 and on Saturday they beat Maine East, 6-3, but lost the second game, 8-7.

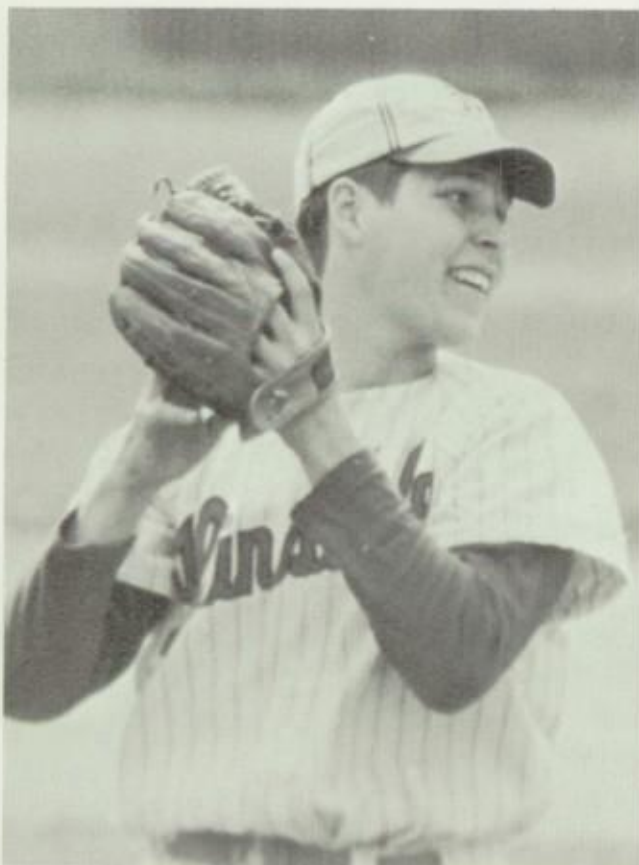

In their remaining conference games, they lost to Downers, beat LT, defeated R-B, and split a double header with York.

Rex leads parade of resignations...

Three Hinsdale coaches at the varsity level resigned in 1968 leaving football, basketball and baseball temporarily without coaches.

Coach Jim Rexilius was the first, resigned March 14 shortly after his team lost a heartbreaker to Riverside-Brookfield in the regional finals. Rex left HT for Wheaton North to become the head football coach there.

Rex had been basketball coach at HT for three years and in the Hinsdale system for six. He compiled a 35-35 record in those three years, and his best year came in 1966-67 when his team compiled a 17-6 mark to take second in the WSC.

He also coached football, baseball and track, and he was the head of the driver's education department.

... Followed by Coach Dickinson

Football Coach Harvey Dickinson was the second to resign when he announced that he wished to spend full time as athletic director April 25.

Dickinson retired after 25 of HT football coaching. His record at HT was 138-36-5 when added to his slate of 35-16-4 gave him the third "most winningest" record in the nation after giving up only 27 points in eight games, going undefeated in the process. In addition, it was named the state's best in many polls.

His only losing season came in his first year as the Red Devils coach when his squad lost six while winning none. But, the Red Devils quickly became a winning team. In 1951, they won their first WSC title. After skipping 1952, they won it for four years running. Then after a short dry spell, they won it again in 1961, 1962, 1963, shared the title in 1965 and won it outright in 1967.

... And then by Coach Trescott

Baseball coach Bill Trescott was the last to resign, June 3 after being appointed assistant dean of students and director of guidance.

Coach Trescott had coached baseball at HT for 10 years, compiling a 60-63 record over that period. His only WSC title came in 1959 when he skippered the sophomore team.

He had called his 1968 team his finest. He pointed proudly to the team batting average of .251, the team earned run average of 2.70 and the fielding average of .941.

The '68 team also had three .300 hitters and three all conference selections, both tops in HT's history. It finished 7-7 in conference, for sixth place, but it had Trescott's best overall performance on the varsity level with a 10-8 record.

Coach Trescott will continue to coach football which he has done for 22 years at HT.

Predicted 9 points wins it

"I think that if we get nine points, we can win it," said Red Devil tennis coach Jay Kramer before the state tennis meet.

So he and the Red Devils went down to Champaign, got nine points on Friday to clinch their second state tennis crown in three years while carrying out Kramer's plans to perfection.

Kramer had hoped to get his doubles teams of Roy Hart-Greg Lawton and Doug Sullivan-Steve Lawton with his lone singles entry, Jim Stocker, through the first round giving them five points. He had then hoped that Stocker and the Lawton-Hart team could each win two more matches for the necessary nine points.

Stocker won his second round, but lost his third match. However, Lawton and Sullivan won their second match. Meanwhile, Lawton and Hart went on to the semi-finals before being beaten by the state champion Rock Island doubles team.

New Trier East, whom Kramer feared the most, ended up a poor sixth as they failed to produce under pressure in Kramer's opinion. Evanston and Arlington managed the biggest threats, but Sullivan and Lawton beat the Arlington doubles team in the second round to put down that uprising.

In the past nine years, HT tennis teams have three championships, four runner-ups and two third place winners in state meets.

In their last 1968 dual meet, the Devils defeated New Trier giving the Indians their first defeat in four years. That victory left the Devil overall record at 12-0.

The Devils also added their seventh conference title in nine years as HT had a monopoly on the individual titles. Stocker, Scott Robinson and Greg Lawton nailed down the singles titles while Steve Lawton-Hart and Wade Copeland-Dave Carpenter got the doubles championships.

The Devils 7-0 conference slate extended their record in the last nine years in the WSC to 60-3. In the last three years, HT has lost only five of 150 matches in conference competition.

Hinsdale's only two setbacks came at the hands of New Trier in triangular and quadrangular situations. Both times, the Red Devils were barely beaten by the Indians.

Sophs go undefeated

Highlighted by a first place finish in the Arlington Invitational, HT's tennis team also gathered in a co-championship with LaGrange in the West Suburban Conference.

The Imps had an 11-0 dual meet slate, their toughest meet coming against LaGrange when they won by the narrow margin of 3-2. The Imps also won the conference meet, but by the point system. LaGrange earned a tie with HT because they had won as many matches in conference competition.

Midway in the season, the Imps traveled to Arlington for that Invitational featuring the best sophomore tennis teams in the state. HT racked up a first in that one.

The Imps defeated everyone in conference, 5-0 except for LaGrange. Ottawa and Oak Park were the only other teams to score on them, Ottawa winning two matches while Oak Park got one.

Late in the season, they murdered New Trier East, 5-0.

Tracksters finish 5th in WSC

Hinsdale's varsity track team finished fifth in the West Suburban Conference led as they were throughout the season by first places in the high jump and shot put by Jack Rinehart and Phil Johnson respectively.

HT also tied for 17th in the state meet at Champaign after qualifying five in the Glenbard East district the week before. Johnson won third place downstate with a throw of 56 feet, good for three of HT's four points. Rinehart got the other point with a fifth place finish in the high jump for his leap of 6 feet 4 inches.

The other Hinsdale entries who had qualified in the Glenbard district, did not place, including Chuck Theidel in the mile, John Derge in the two-mile, and Brad McDonald in the 220-yard dash.

Other placers in the conference meet were led by McDonald who earned points in three events including third in the 220, fifth in the 100-yard dash. He also was a member of the second place 880-yard relay consisting of Stone, Grandy, Kimball and McDonald.

Kimball finished third in the low hurdles while Larry Grandy was fourth in the broad jump. Bill Gray ended up fifth in the 880 for the remaining Red Devil points.

Rinehart and McDonald were the most valuable players selected by their teammates while McDonald and Derge shared the honorary team captain position.

The Imp trackmen had a rather disappointing season.

In their first meet, they fell to Willowbrook. Firsts for HT were Phil Dodson in the shot put and Bill Grimm in the discus.

Hinsdale's first conference meet of the year found them falling to Proviso West. Firsts for the Imps were recorded by Carl Sandberg in the high jump, Ed Walendy in the long jump, and George Matocha in the 220.

The Red and White faced tough opponents, such as Bloom and Thornton, and continued dropping dual meets. However, improvements were being seen. Bill Berquist came into his own in the hurdles, Jim Santucci began to place high in the 880, and Kent Quackenbush became a consistent placer in the 440. Also Matocha in the sprints and Walendy in the long jump and 880 relay continued to establish themselves as top performers.

Finally, their day came, as they faced Downers Grove North. Using balanced scoring not seen all season, the Imps pulled through as victors. Firsts were recorded by Walendy in the long jump, Matocha in the 100 and 220, Bergquist in the hurdles, Santucci in the 880, and the 880 relay team. Also, there were an assortment of seconds and thirds.

The Imps ended the season by placing 8th in the WSC meet. The only point makers were Walendy in the long jump and the 880 relay team (Chancy, Walendy, Karras, Matocha).

Golf team finishes 3rd in WSC

HT's golf team ended up with an 8-4 overall record and in third place in the West Suburban Conference.

The Red Devils finished with a 5-2 conference dual meet record for a first place tie, but they were only fifth in the WSC Meet to finish third in the conference.

The Devils won their first three meets in a row against Wheaton Central, Morton West, and Morton

East, beating Wheaton by only one stroke.

Lemont then handed HT its first loss by nine strokes at Cog Hill.

The Red Devils came roaring back to beat highly ranked Downers Grove North, 327-340 at Woodridge. Naperville knocked off the Red Devils, but HT came back with a 22 stroke victory over the York Dukes.

HT beat LaGrange, 328-342 with a clutch performance, defeated Riverside-Brookfield by 10 strokes, and went past Proviso West, 322-346. Those wins left them with a 5-2 conference slate. Meanwhile, Glenbard had lost twice and Downers North had lost once more to create a three-way tie at the top of the conference standings.

However, Glenbard finished first in the conference meet, Downers fourth and HT fifth.

In district competition, the HT golfers came in seventh at Cog Hill.

Bob Hampel, Scott and Don Beeken, Geoff Penman, Kyle Vranek and Ken Hutter were the mainstays of the team. Bill Carpenter, a sophomore, joined the team midway through the season.

Don Beeken was named the team's most valuable player, while Bob Hampel served as team captain during the year.

Sophs just miss on undefeated season

Hinsdale's sophomore golfers blazed through an 11-1 season. Naperville spoiled the Imps' bid for an undefeated record when they stopped the initial HT win streak a five with a 342-333 win.

HT captured the sophomore golf WSC championship with a perfect, 7-0 dual meet season. Led by Don Parsons who was the individual conference champion on the sophomore level, the Imps clinched the title by earning first place in the conference meet at Woodridge.

The Imps won their last six in a row including a 17-stroke victory over York, a 10-stroke margin over Maine East, a 46-stroke victory over LaGrange, a 31-stroke victory over Glenbard West, a 43-stroke win over Riverside-Brookfield and a mere 14-stroke margin over Proviso West.

Against LaGrange, playing the same course as the varsity, the sophomores shot a 323 while the Red Devils had a 328.

HT holds intramurals

Boys at HT participated in intramural sports during all seasons. In the fall two leagues, senior-junior and freshman-sophomore, were formed for touch football.

In the winter, basketball leagues were formed, again differentiating between upper and lower classmen.

Baseball in the form of 16 inch softball was the spring sport.

Senior Leaders are much needed and appreciated by the Girl's P.E. teachers.

These Seniors aid P.E. teachers by grading exams, a time-consuming activity.

Senior leaders assist girl's P.E. leaders

Leaders started as a club in 1946 and was called the Student Leaders Club. The girls involved would use their study hall periods and assist the teachers in officiating and leading exercises. What training they had was done after school. The club was a G.A.A. activity. In 1949, the club elected officers and entered a float in the Homecoming parade.

The training year was introduced in 1957 as a prerequisite for leading. The girls were in the program one year before going into their classes. 1960 saw the introduction of the "modern" leader program with two years of training required instead of one.

Applications for the sophomore trainee class are available during the second semester of the freshman year. Approximately 45 girls are accepted into the sophomore program. During this year, the emphasis is placed on developing skills.

Successful completion of the sophomore year enables a girl to continue in junior training. A few sophomores not in the program the first year are eligible for entrance into junior trainees only through outstanding performance in their regular class.

The junior year stresses knowledge of rules and officiating techniques. Here, the girls are given exposure to teaching a class.

After completing the junior trainee program satisfactorily the girls are eligible for the position of a Senior Leader. Approximately 25 girls are chosen to act as teachers assistants during their senior year.

Senior Ellen Greaves, president of G.A.A., demonstrates to her club members the infamous front drop.

G.A.A. sponsors girl's athletic events to improve physical skills

Although G.A.A.'s records go back only to 1942, it is very probable that there has been a Girl's Athletic Association as long as there have been girls at HT to participate.

Due to the remarkable accomplishments of the tennis team in 1951, G.A.A. initiated the awarding of a letter, similar to those awarded to boys, for participation on teams. The custom was changed in 1964 before the class of 1968 entered HT. Now the custom is to award charms, trophies and certificates for various positions.

Around 1962, the now traditional high-point award was started. This is awarded to a graduating senior girl accumulating the most points during her four years here. Another award for senior girls is the membership in the "400 Club". To be eligible, a girl must have earned 400 points during her four years and, of course, be a graduating senior.

In the early 1960's the tradition of inviting the eighth grade girls in the area to a playday was conceived. Since then, many of the girls entering HT have participated in this event. It is usually held in the first week of May.

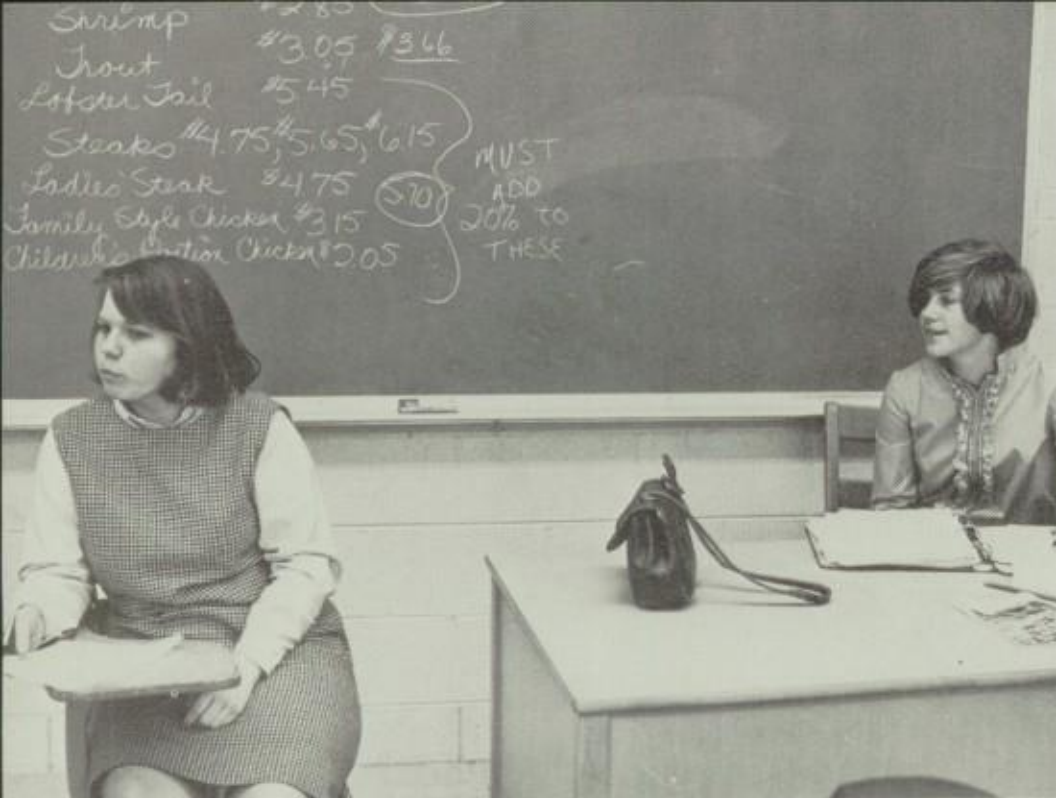

In 1963, Aquaettes, which was under the direction of G.A.A., separated and formed their independent organization.

This year G.A.A. opened the year with a Fun Night for all the girls in the school to introduce them to the program. During the football season, they sold concessions which was their only major money making project.

To help get their membership in the Christmas spirit, the annual caroling party was held. Believing in interscholastic activities, the club sponsored a pot luck board meeting with Hinsdale South. Here they exchanged ideas and hoped to get new insights for the future. Proceeds from a coke booth at the S. C. Carnival went to the U. S. Olympic Committee.

A "Pop Square Hop" was held where fathers and daughters alike did square dances number after number. They also played numerous games of volleyball. The traditional Mother Daughter Banquet was held on the evening of May 21st. Here the awards for the year were presented and the officers for 1969 were announced. This year they ended the year with eighth grade play day.

Sponsored activities after school include, tennis, swimming, basketball, bowling, archery, badminton, gymnastics and softball. Tournaments are held in basketball and volleyball. Interscholastic competition is held in badminton, tennis, and archery. These teams competed against LaGrange, Glenbard East and West, Hinsdale South, Willowbrook, Naperville and Riverside-Brookfield.

The purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in athletics and to provide such opportunities, athletically and socially for the girls of HT.

The club was led by our sponsor, Miss Mary Ann Dekan. Outstanding contributions were made by most of the girls on board: Ellen Greaves, President; Nancy Huber, Vice President; Rita Andres, Secretary; Paula Cychers, Treasurer; and Julie Vaughan Social Chairman.

One of G.A.A.'s activities, an after-school work-out in the gymnastics room, has proved a popular pastime.

New uniforms have been purchased by Varsity club for the 1968-1969 Varsity cheerleading squad. This year's squad captain was Janice Bujan with Janis Ekl as her co-captain. The four other regulars were Judy Kucera, Jonni Lauritzen, Pat Murphy and Leslie Scott; Sue Snedeker and Mary Scott were the two alternates. The alternate's job is just as big as the regular's because she learns every cheer and each of the other cheerleaders positions. The alternates are allowed to chose four games to cheer at during the year. They automatically cheer at Homecoming and Dad's Day. They are the substitutes for girls who are absent the day of practice or the day of the game.

Mrs. Reeder, better known to the girls as "Ma" was the faculty sponsor. In the middle of the year Mrs. Reeder moved to California and Mrs. Kordupleski took over the position.

Practices are held twice a week on Tuesday and Wednesday during the school year, and at least two hours a week during the summer. They cheer at pep rallies and football and basketball games. Also they attend cross country, gymnastic and wrestling meets when possible. Tryouts were held in the spring for any sophomore or junior boy or girl having at least a 3.0 average.

Pom pom or pom pon? Yes, Hinsdale Central had its third pom pon squad this year.

Twenty-five girls chosen in the spring of the previous school year make up HT's group of peppy performers. Pom pon girls begin their practice for the coming school year during August. During the year regular practices are held on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday for two hours and when ever the girls could get the gym before a basketball game.

During the football season most of the routines were done to band music. Many of the girls on the squad accompanied the band to Virginia Beach last June. In the winter the squad was usually found on the basketball court at half time performing to records.

At Virginia Beach the girls were caught in the rain and their crepe paper pom pons ran all over their skirts. Booster Club bought the pom pons that were used this year.

This year Barb Grabner was the Captain, DeDe Cuchna Co-Captain, and Caryl Bartelman Secretary-Treasurer. When Barb moved after the first semester, DeDe became Captain and Jane Faulkner was elected Co-Captain. For the second year in a row, Miss Carol Stack was the sponsor and advisor of the group.

The pom pon squad also held pot-luck dinners for visiting pom pon squads and they had a bakesale in December.

Student Council Executive Board "plans, organizes and coordinates S. C. activities"

Executive Board consists of Student Council officers Chuck Sted, President; Ross Anderson, Vice-President; Kathy Daley, Treasure; Karen Teschner, Social Chairman; Cathy Chandler, Senate Secretary; Molly Addington, R. A. Secretary; Don Shute, Speaker of the House; Lucy Moore, Parliamentarian; and Tinna Ruus and Carol Gullaksen as Historians.

Its purpose is to plan, organize and co-ordinate Student Council and school activities. Chuck Sted and Karen Teschner kept tabs on the other student happenings thru President's Council and Social Chairmen's Council. For the most part, Executive Board decides what Student Council does each year. This year the board decided to serve the students and the community without trying to substantially increase the treasury. Such projects as leadership workshops, the opening day mixer, involvement week, Fun Night, and the Variety Show were examples of this policy.

A scholarship for underprivileged youngsters to attend day camps, and canned goods, clothing and letters for Vietnam drives have served the community. The Student Council Carnival, March 22, provided all clubs with a chance to make money: it was a smashing success.

Two retreats were taken by the Executive Board this year. The first was a follow up discussion on the Conference on Values. In the second retreat the 1967-1968 and 1968-1969 Executive Boards discussed the planning, programs, organization and committees of Student Council.

Many traditions have been established by Executive Board, such as a school paper and cheerleaders (1932). During World War II, Student Council raised $465.85 for The Red Cross. After the war a plaque was hung in memory of Hinsdale boys who gave their lives and it can be seen in the Hinsdale Memorial Building. By 1956 The Student Council was very similar as it is today. The bicameral system was instituted in 1965.

S. C.'s sponsors were Mr. Gaylord, Mr. Hartzer, and Mr. Halac.

The Student Council office is in one of its rare periods of inactivity.

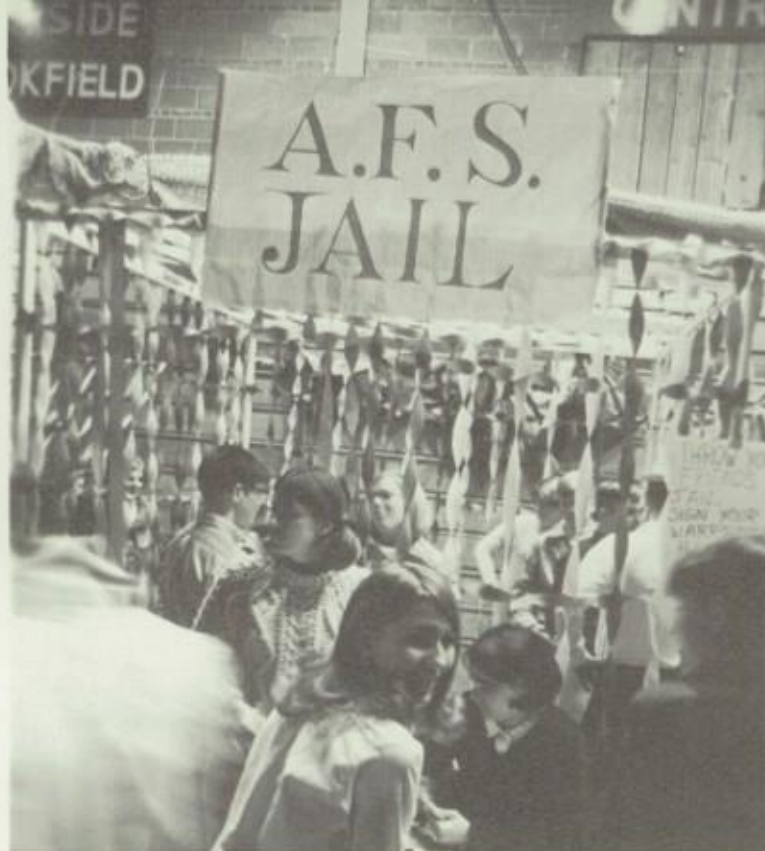

President Chuck Sted conducts an executive board meeting.

A.F.S. sponsors three money making projects to send students abroad

HT's branch of American Field Service has had a very busy year. In its attempt to put into practice the goals of the 58 year-old organization, the committee, headed by Pam Sandburg and Diane Tacason, has worked "to develop understanding and respect between individuals and mutual awareness of different cultures and ways of life" by working toward earning the $750 needed to bring a foreign student to HT. This year the committee has held "Penny-Pitching Days", sponsored "The Bermuda Shorts Day", conducted a mail service at Christmas, and even arrested people for its Jail at the Carnival.

Lissy Raymond was H.T.'s foreign student who traveled to Finland during the summer of 1967. She relates her experiences in the September 21st issue of the Courier.

"I flew to New York and the next day I boarded the SS Ryndam with 600 other A.F.S.ers. When we arrived in Rotterdam, Holland, the groups of A.F.S.ers split up and traveled to their respective countries. The Finland group had the longest trip by land; it took two days. I with six other kids went to different summer schools and taught English for 3 and a half weeks."

Lissy also visited Finland's second largest city, Tampere for two more weeks before returning to Helsinki with the other A.F.S.ers.

"The most profound insight I gained into Finnish life was the way the Finn's treat people. I had more homes open to me than I can count. I was asked if I would do it all over again; I would."

H.T.'s foreign students this year are Pam Maxwell of Ireland, Leilani Swain of Hawaii, and Ximena Moreno of Ecuador. Through assemblies and the Foreign Student Weekend, A.F.S. has brought its goal a little closer to home for H.T. students.

Lissy Raymond visited Finland during the summer of 1967 as an A.F.S. Domestic Foreign Exchange Student.

This year Hinsdale was proud to have three American Field Service students living with us. These three girls filled out applications, passed various exams, and were interviewed before being chosen from a large group of applicants. Through the A.F.S.'s main office in New York they were assigned to homes in Hinsdale.

Pam Maxwell, a frank and candid student from Belfast, Ireland, heard about the A.F.S. program through a friend of hers.

Pam is particularly interested in Art and was enrolled in Art IV at HT. She plans on continuing her education either at Belfast Art School or Sargent Martins College in London. Specifically, she would like to work with decorative jewelry; she makes most of her own.

Pam is living with the Shewalter family who have three children. Pam became involved in the Candy Striping program at the San through the Shewalter's senior daughter, Andi. The Irish Junior Red Cross has a similar program.

She enjoyed the freedom of dress at HT. The Irish schools have no extra-curricular activities and Pam was surprised to discover all the clubs open to her at HT. During Easter Pam vacationed with the Shewalters to Washington, D.C.

She particularly enjoyed the large city atmosphere of Chicago and the novel shops in Old Town.

Another A.F.S. student this year was Ximena Merino from Quito, Ecuador. She came to America because she likes to study and wanted to improve her English. She has become aware of this country and its problems throughout the year. She commented, "I feel like part of this country when I say the Pledge of Allegiance. I respect the American flag and all it symbolizes. My country is grateful for the many things you have given us."

She enjoys life in Hinsdale because of its small-town atmosphere and is yet near an exciting city. Ximena stayed at the home of Senior Lissy Raymond.

Ximena attended a non co-educational school in Quito, which was run with the traditional Spanish influences, having no real confined activities.

School curriculum is quite different in Ecuador. There she takes 17 courses a year.

Ximena has one basic attitude for living: Not to only look at ourselves but to give.

lani's family.

Leilani comes from a large family of seven children of which she is the second oldest. Her school, Kamehameha is much like HT. It is co-ed with 2500 students. Surfing, swimming and dancing are her favorite activities.

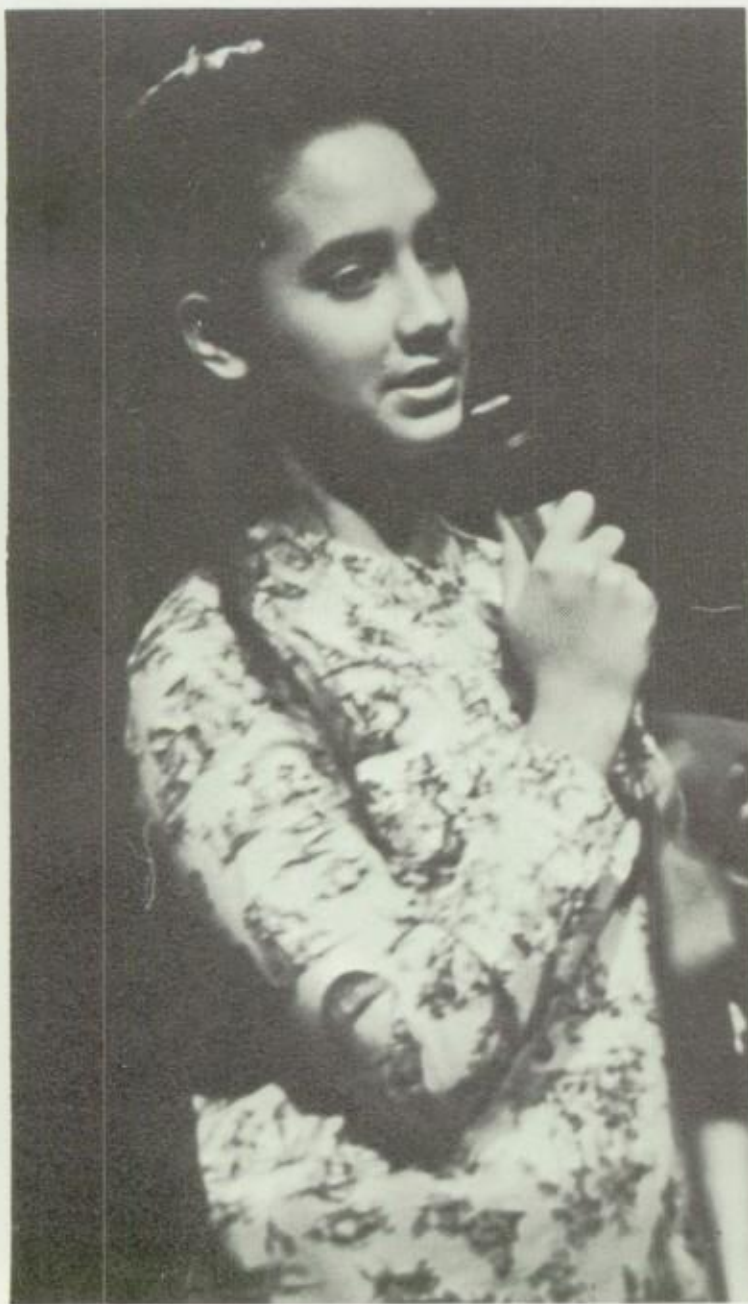

Leilani feels a friend must have something in common, sharing similar interests. She realizes, "It's nice to have someone to have fun with who is not always serious or moody."

As to conflicting inner-school groups she felt "I do not think a division is right. All teenagers have similar problems and emotions. We are all interested in common things."

Leilani has visited the Continent several times and has seen over twenty states.

Leilani had a solo dance number in the annual Variety Show. She felt as if she was back in Hawaii for those few brief moments when she was dancing. The music was all so familiar. When she dances she says she feels the atmosphere of the number.

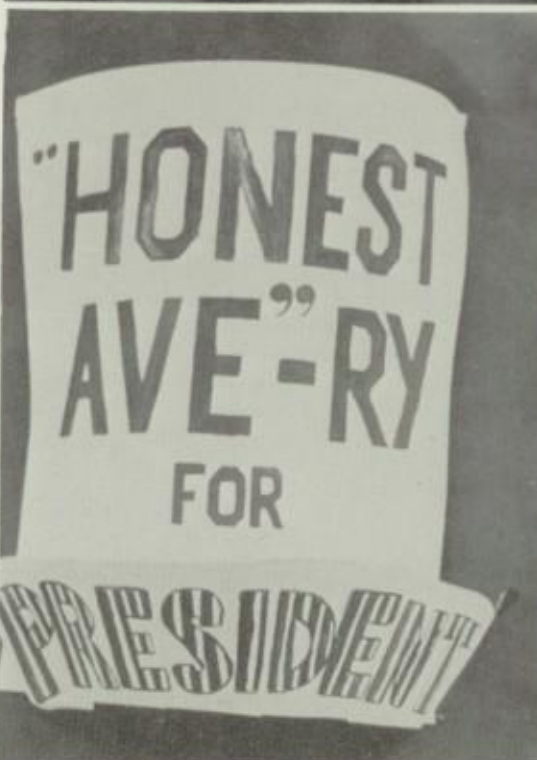

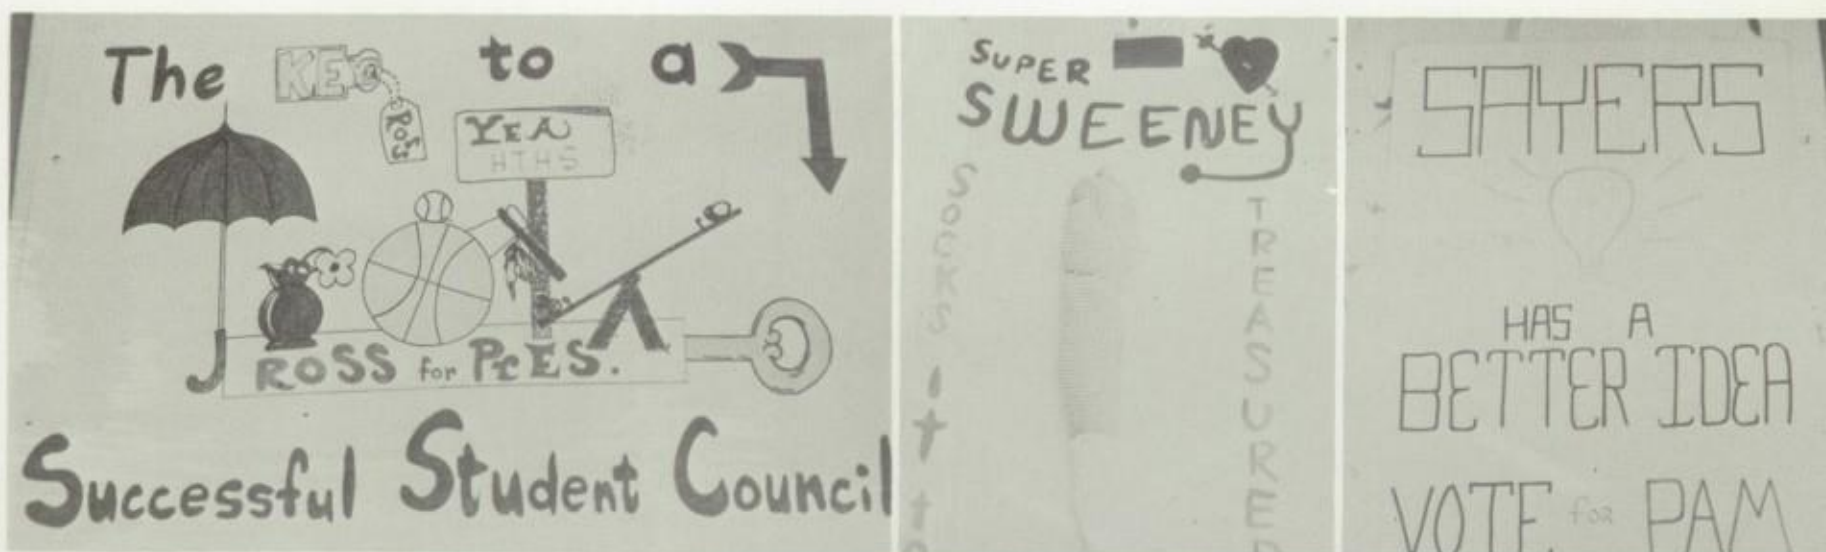

In line with the A.F.S. motto, "walk together, talk together, all ye people of the world, then and only then shall there be peace", each year through people like Ximena, Pam and Leilani this goal is furthered with the exchange of ideas and aspirations.

Students choose Anderson-Shute

In the traditional post-Easter rally the Student Council officers were elected on April 28, 1968. Elected were Ross Anderson, Pres.; Don Shute, V.P.; Barb Fletcher, Senate Sec.; Sue Dittig, Sec. to the RA; Jerry Sweeny, Treas.; and Kim Angelo, Soc. Chrmn.

As to "tradition in Variety Show," quoteth the raven-like Kim Angelo, "nevermore". He promises diversity of vaude-villian stunts in Variety Show. President Anderson is also an advocate of novelty. From next year's board one may expect the unexpected.

If Don Shute were an animal he would be a work horse, most of his "neighing" would be directed at the bi-cameral system. Presently the aristocratic Senate can veto any bill. Shute will also be carrying the ponderous cart of Homecoming.

Representative Assembly could be more effective if each student member would accept the responsibility of reporting to the meetings.

R. A. provides for effective student reaction

The Representative Assembly is the one place in school where any student can express his views, suggest changes, or support new ideas. Its meetings are held every Tuesday at 3:00 in the Speech Lab.

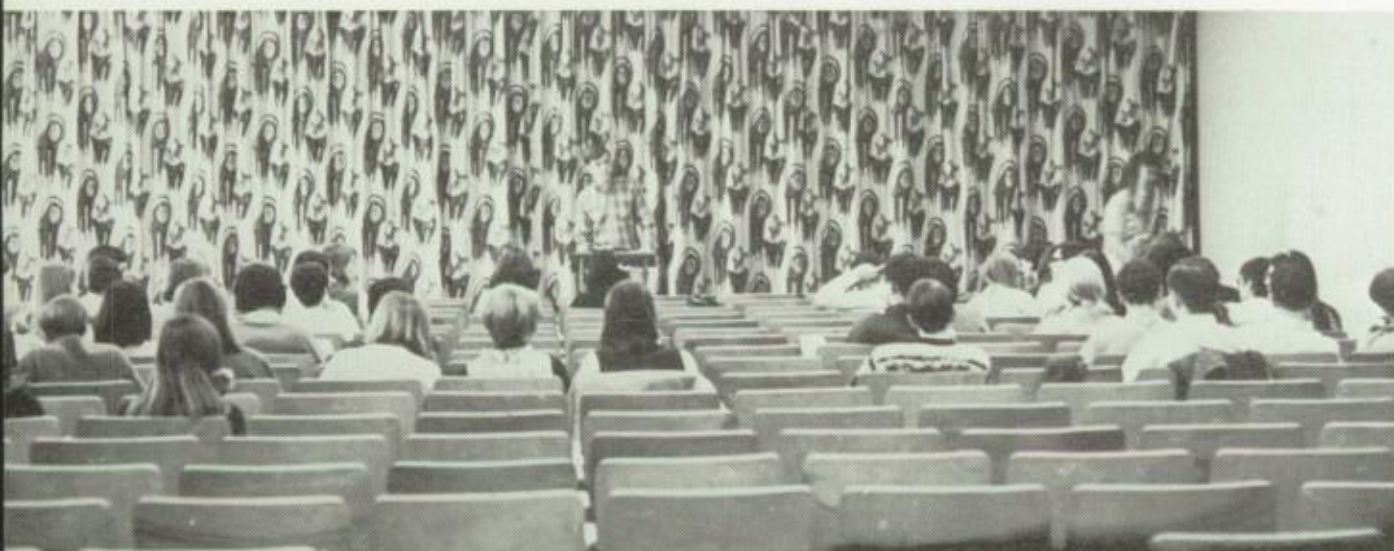

The idea of Representative Assembly was formulated with the founding of HT. Records of meetings go as far back as 1930. RA has always concerned itself with dress code, scholarships, student conduct, and Student Council finances. Today it controls much of Variety Show and proposes constitutional amendments. The voting representatives are elected from their P&L classes each year.

This year the Speaker of the House was Don Shute. Minutes were taken by R.A. Secretary Molly Addington. These two people were responsible for the progress RA made during the year. Because of Social Chairman, Karen Teschner's fine leadership and R.A.'s good planning, Variety Show was better than ever. A two hundred dollar scholarship was established.

Seven constitutional amendments were proposed, including the termination of the Senate. This amendment did not go into effect, perhaps because the Senate may vote down lowerhouse legislation. Many discussions, including a "gripe session" with the Senate was undertaken. The leadership workshop in September was a success. The Representative Assembly enjoyed a fairly good year.

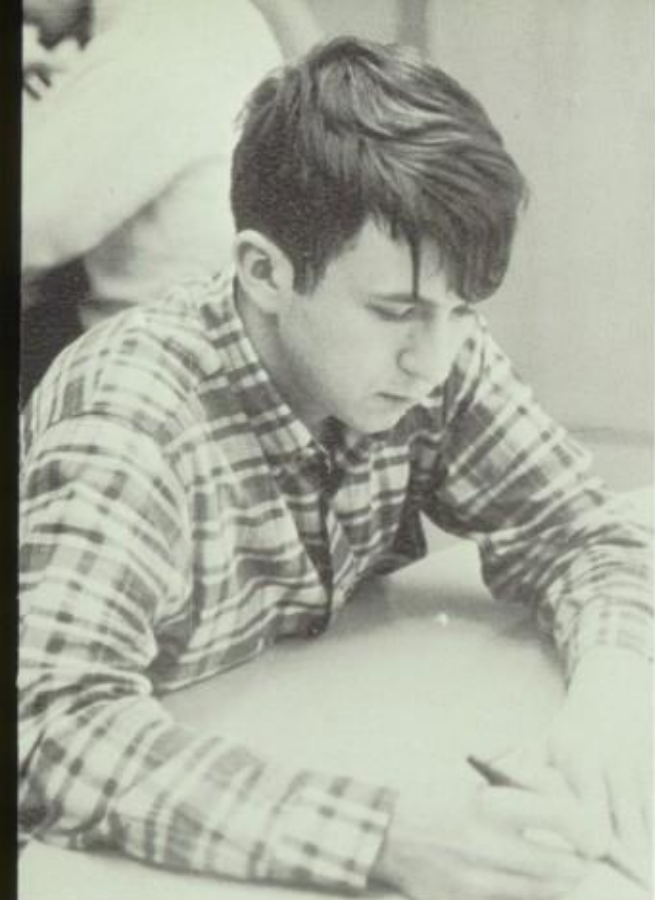

Representatives from each P and L class meet one afternoon each week in the Speech Lab to discuss school problems which can be effectively solved by students.

(Far left:) Sophomore Don Shute, who took over Jim Weck's position as Speaker of the House, is aided by Molly Addington, Secretary of R.A., in the afternoon meeting.

(Near left:) Kathy Daley, Treasurer of Student Council, worked hard to budget their two school-wide events, Variety Show and the Carnival.

Besides teaching H.T. students World and American History, Mr. Marlowe Hartzer sponsors the Senate, helping to bridge the faculty-student gap in planning activities.

Bob Hampel aids Student Council by Constructively criticizing the members who were involved in the organization in his "Council Chronicles."

Senior Cathy Chandler, Secretary of the Senate, records minutes of each meeting, and aids S.C. Board in making plans and solving problems.

Three-year old senate struggles to fulfill its obligations

The idea of a bicameral legislature in the 1965 constitution created the Senate. Its purpose is for a small, highly-skilled group of students to provide the S.C. executive board with support, ideas and manpower. The Senate is also supposed to improve communications between S. C. and the class boards.

Senate has sixteen members, four from each class. This year Ross Anderson presided while Cathy Chandler recorded the minutes. The Senators met every Tuesday in room 114 at 3:00.

This year Senate fell below expectations. Throughout the year, Senate was mostly involved with voting down bills passed by R.A. One positive action Senate approved was a bill providing for a Student Council Scholarship awarded to the student that improved his (or her) class rank the most between the first and seventh semesters. This scholarship will be awarded on Class Day.

One of the most radical of proposed constitutional amendments this year came out of R.A. The Representative Assembly wanted to disband the Senate because they felt the Senate was not fulfilling its obligations. It remains to be seen whether or not the Senate will improve in the future. Senators this year were:

Variety Show '68, opened on February 15, presenting a large group of students who worked "to maximum with excellence."

Primarily, Variety Show's purpose is to involve students in some worthwhile activity. Crew, performers and directors put in much time to create three nights of superb entertainment, enjoyed by people from all over the area. This way hundreds of students are able to work on a Student Council project. This was Student Council's main money-making project. Variety Show director Karen Teschner said "This (the money-making) was secondary as far as I was concerned. If the kids didn't have fun while working on it, the show wasn't worth doing."

The budget was $800 which was used for programs, scenery, music, make-up, costumes and light rental. Student Activity Director, Mr. Harlow Gaylord said of the '68 show, "It was the most superior HT has ever had. This was mainly due to the way the cast worked together for an entire show."

Rehearsals started January 29 and continued every day until the show opened on February 15th for a three night run. All rehearsals for "Yellow Pages" were closely scheduled. Acts put in approximately 2½ to three hours a day working, while crews and the director worked a minimum of 8 hours. The actual planning of the show started when the new Social Chairman, and other Student Council officers were elected in the spring of '67.

Approximately 250 students participated in the show. All together there were 21 acts including the faculty movie featuring 8 faculty members.

Treasurer Kathy Daley handled the finances of the show while Mary Palmer advertised with posters, announcements and articles in papers. Brian McKinney and Steve Keyser along with Tom Cross and Randy Saar wrote the transitions. This added a continuity and emphasized the theme, "The Yellow Pages".

A junior girl's act, "Illusions" won the first place award, while Senior's act, "Travel Unlimited," placed second. "Travel" was also awarded a second prize for originality. The act was a parody of the Wizard of Oz organized by Mike Kemmerling. Third place went to an unusual dance number done by Sophomores dressed in costumes of llamas: "South American Safari Service." Senior Marcia Buege received the award for most talented. She sang two songs highlighted by the favorite, "Goin' out of my Head." Most humorous award went to Senior Donna Davidson's group, "Potion Pranks." These seniors sang a clever song about senior women's and men's dating difficulties to the tune "Georgy Girl".

Variety Show proves "to maximum with excellence"

Variety Show has been a tradition at Hinsdale since the year 1949. Until the present auditorium was built, the show was held in the gym.

Having a good show depends on the abilities of everyone, but more importantly, a good attitude. This year's cast never lost their sense of humor, but still performed with a great deal of responsibility. The cast had a good time doing it because there were few loose ends: organization became the key factor. The audience was impressed each night with the good spirit that literally sparkled from the stage.

After many suggestions were proposed for the theme, one was chosen at the end of October. An all encompassing theme, "Yellow Pages", provided for a variety of acts and talents. Tryouts were held in December. A few weeks later lists of selected acts were posted on the S. C. office door.

"To maximum with excellence", that's what the show was about, Variety Show 68'.

The HI-Notes, HT's jazz band, provided the music for Variety Show.

H.T.'s High Notes included M. Procopio, J. Phillip, S. Bell, G. Anderson, M. Dorn, K. Bejek, A. Armstrong, R. Gattuso, A. Selander, D. Rowe, L. Borden, J. Phippard, B. Wilson, J. Peterson, B. Gustofson, M. Gasper, J. Drinkwater, C. Odegard and J. Pierson.

H.T.'S High-Notes composed of selected band members

The High-Notes are organized from within the concert band to study and perform big band jazz music. There are about 16 members; five saxophones, four trombones, four trumpets, one flute, a piano, a base, a guitar, drums, vibraphone and a tuba. The number of members is fairly constant, since this is the standard instrumentation for jazz music.

The High-Notes are chosen at try-outs held every fall by Mr. Nicoda. Members are chosen on the basis of skill and experience. There is also a training group called the Low-Notes for players who need more experience. This is another full-sized stage band, and has made several appearances during the last year.

The High-Notes are taken from the concert band, but they differ in the type of music they play and the size. The concert band is the size of a symphony orchestra and plays symphonic music arranged specially for wind instruments. The High-Notes are much smaller and play jazz music. They take part in all activities of the concert band since every member is also a member of the concert band. They went to Virginia Beach last year, but as members of the concert band, not as another group.

This year the High-Notes have won two "superior" ratings, one in each contest. The first was the Chicagoland Stage Band Festival, held Feb. 3 at Oak Lawn High School, and the second was the Festival of Jazz held April 6, at Mundelein High School. Although the Chicagoland Festival presents tougher competition (due to the larger number of bands involved) the High-Notes have taken superior ratings for several years running. This is the first year they have entered the Festival of Jazz.

The High-Notes make 10-12 appearances a year, including the two contests and appearances at school functions. Around school, the High-Notes play for the Guard show, Variety show, some school dances and basketball games and occasionally in the cafeteria at lunch. Most of these are extremely informal. This year another appearance was added to the list: the Jazz concert held in February of this year. Featured were the High-Notes, the Low-Notes and a staff band. This was the first year for the concert, but it is planned to repeat it next year.

Next year the High-Notes will attend the Chicagoland Stage Band Festival and the Festival of Jazz once again. They will also appear around school and at HT's second Jazz Concert.

H.T.'S band department offers service to over 900 students, including the Jr. High Efficiency and involvement are accredited to hundreds of HT students who participate in the music department. One of the largest is the Concert Band.

This summer was the second time the band has competed in the Virginia Beach Music Festival along with 24 other bands for first place in the Mid-Eastern Region. The summer of '67 they placed third.

The band was one of the first extra-curricular activities organized at HT in 1924 by Mr. Theodore Knott. The band made its debut on Memorial Day of that year.

For 15 years Mr. James Buckborough was responsible for building up a strong program for the beginners. Individual instruction by part time teachers experienced in specific instruments, were offered to students for no extra charge. The band grew, but growth is not enough. Their tone and unity improved so greatly that in 1938 they won a first division honor in the State Band Contest. Before his 15 years ended in 1943, Mr. Buckborough developed a champion band, introduced a music appreciation course and wrote HT's "Alma Mater."

The next director gradually brought the band program back to its normal size. During World War II it had been curtailed. Mr. Austin Kuhns emphasized solos and small ensembles rather than the band as a whole.

Soon after, the Arion Senior Music Awards and TRI-M were introduced and students had a few more goals to work for.

As the school population grew so did the band. Within a few years it moved from Class B to Class AA, which is the top division including the largest piece bands.

Mr. Walter Nechoda, a prominent personality around H.T., pauses with his concert band at a state contest awaiting further instructions.

Mr. Shipton, Mr. Nechoda's assistant, is responsible for preparing Varsity Band members for promotion to Concert Band.

Brass instrumentalists vary lip pressure to control vibration in producing tone.

When the High School moved to its present location the band expanded as a second band for less experienced players.

Now, a lack of space is the problem. A third band was formed, the Cadet Band to take care of the overflow of students. Freshmen join Cadet Band while sophomores, juniors and seniors join the Varsity Band. Mr. Khuns was responsible for the division in the band program which provided excellent training for gradual changes.

In 1960 the present director, Mr. Walter Nechoda took over. He arrived at Hinsdale about 13 years ago. At that time 175 were students involved in the department which

Throughout the year the bands perform at football and basketball games, assemblies and graduation.

The band is a perfect example of the practical application of the theme "to maximum with excellence." Each individual is essentially involved in making a complete whole; the whole is top-flight because each instrumentalist is first.

This year the band made a trip to Butler School to perform for some mentally retarded children. The members felt a little bit more fulfilled making life a little happier for someone else. The bands cut a record in the fall of '67.

Members of H.T.'s Varsity Band include J. Anderson, D. Armstrong, D. Ashford, R. Barr, D. Black, B. Borsom, D. Box, R. Carlson, D. Clarke, R. Coburn, T. Coley, C. Cooper, M. Crawford, D. Craig, M. Concert Choir increases due to

When Mrs. Doris Osmond came to H.T. in 1958, there were only 33 members of Concert Choir. Now, 10 years later, it boasts 72 members. One reason is that the enthusiasm, private lessons, T. V., and guitar groups have interested more students, especially boys, in the choral aspect of music.

The Choral Department is composed of the Boys' and Girls' Choirs, the Mixed Choir, Concert Choir, and the Madrigals. These groups perform all year round for many audiences.

The Concert Choir and Madrigals have given two concerts and two assemblies this year. They also have performed at Butler School, the Junior High, and other surrounding schools to develop a greater interest among school children toward the choral department.

The Concert Choir is chosen in the spring. Boys for choir are often chosen directly from junior high while the girls go through training during the school year. In respect to the judging of students, Mrs. Osmond looks for "a mature voice that blends well." She feels that "the blend of voices is most important in making a good choir."

The choral highlight of the year was the operetta. This year Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate" was presented May 23, 24, 25. This musical was chosen because of its clean, quick humor and the large cast which enabled more members of choir to take part. The first operetta was a Gilbert and Sullivan "showboat" performed only 7 years ago on the Junior high stage. Then, in 1961, the auditorium was completed and

"Oklahoma" was the first production on the new stage. Proceeds from Choir's concerts go for costuming and scenery for the operetta.

This year, Concert Choir and the Madrigals made a Christmas record. They began rehearsing in October all sorts of songs and taped one evening at Union Church.

Mrs. Osmond is proud of the achievements of the Choral Department and feels that "the quality of voice has improved tremendously since I came."

Madrigals add elegant touch to Choral Department

The Madrigals (who got their name from the particular kind of 16th and 17th century music they sing) are chosen from the Concert Choir. This smaller, more select group is very much in demand and has performed for many clubs and organizations this past year, such as churches, the San, two Old Folks' Homes, women's clubs and the Newcomer's Club. They often perform twice a week.

Sophomore Julie Whitbrodt and Senior Mary Ann Sharp are representative of the cheer and joy the Madrigals spread before the Holiday break last December.

This year's Madrigal Ensemble included S. Baird, S. Biesendorfer, M. Buege, C. Carter, L. Heinsen, C. Newman, R. Ratcliff, R. Saar, J. Schurson, M. A. Sharp, C. Sted, J. Thatcher, B. Trask, R. Wentzell, J. Whitbrodt, C. Cummins — Accompanist.

Audio-Visual Department acquires large service role

The Audio-Visual Department's purpose is to serve the faculty and students. Mr. Timothy Murphy is the Audio-Visual director.

This department serves many functions. Any teacher may request a record player, tape recorder, 16mm. projector or other electronic supplementary equipment, and student monitors deliver it to the room. Films and slides may be previewed before, during, or after school for teachers or students requesting them. These materials may also be checked out for use in the classrooms. The department also makes transparencies. Book pages are copied for class use. During Pep Rallies and assemblies, audio-visual is still operating, setting up the sound systems. The record player and amplifiers that provide music at lunch belong to audio-visual.

Students helping Mr. Murphy in all these areas are carefully se-

They are usually aware of what films and slides the department has on file. The students are also responsible for getting equipment to and from teachers when they want it.

Audio-visual has begun an instructional materials file. This is a file with a record of all films, slides, records, and transparencies in the school. This file will grow each year as new materials are purchased by the school.

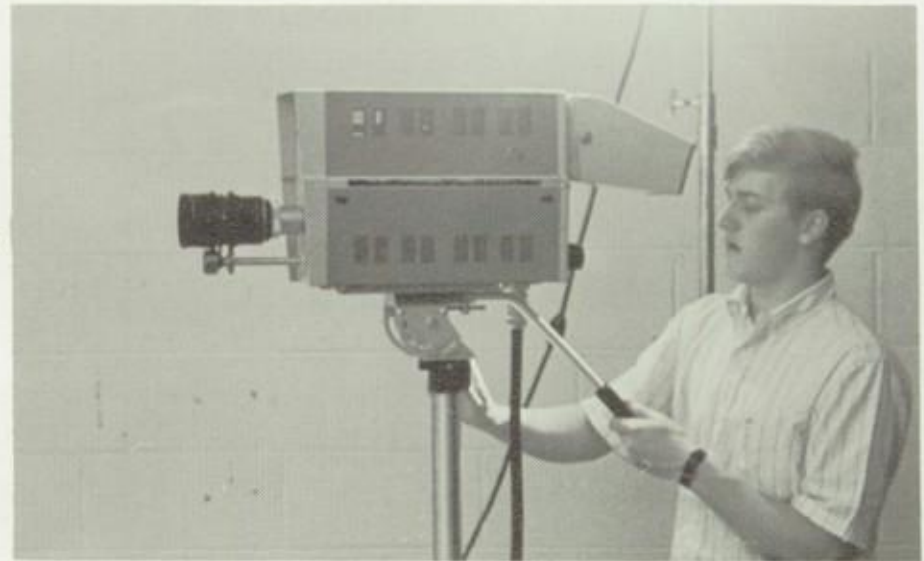

Monitors serving as secretaries in the A-V include sophomores Jan Perkins and Cindy Young.

Ross Anderson as Fred Graham starred Friday night.

The entire cast and orchestra practiced long hours for weeks beforehand.

Gangsters Chuck Sted and Ken Koranda drew loud applause and laughter Thursday and Saturday nights.

Mrs. Doris Osmond directed the production on stage and in the pit.

Bobbi Cokinis as Lilli Vanessi on Thursday night sings "So in love am I."

Brandishing a whip, Fred Graham played by Steve Biesendorfer displays his great displeasure while acting as Petruchio.

Triple casting of "Kiss Me Kate" another success

Cole Porter's "Kiss Me Kate", a musical adaption of "Taming of the Shrew", was successful at all three performances on May 23, 24, 25.

Miss Osmond, choral director, and director of the production feels that every operetta should have triple casting. This adds variety to the shows and draws a greater crowd. The music department has many able people who are able to prove their talents with the flexible casting.

As the curtain rose and the orchestra began to play, the entire cast was on stage in rehearsal costume for "another operetta in another show."

The story plot of "Kiss Me Kate" is centered around ex-husband and wife Fred Graham and Lilli Vanessi and a troupe of players performing Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew". Fred institutes the methods Petruchio use in taming Kate and finally tames Lilli after many amusing incidents.

Lilli threatens to leave the play and marry her millionaire boy friend Harrison Howell. Two gangsters appear demanding money from Fred and pressuring Lillie to perform.

Lilli believes Fred to be in love with cute Lois Lane. But as the musical progresses Fred and Lilli find they are very much in love with each other.

The two gangsters drew much of the audiences' applause and laughter for their number "Brush Up Your Shakespeare."

The rather long musical did not drag because the cast worked so well together.

Kate finally kisses Petruchio in the finale "So Kiss Me, Kate", and the curtain falls on a number of vital and enthusiastic performers who deserved the applause they received.

Ken Pletcher and Jane Thatcher played Bill Calhoun (Lucentio) and Lois Lane (Bianca) on Friday night.

This year's operetta would never have run quite as smoothly without the help of the stage crew, headed by Jim Wearne, center.

Casted Friday night were Mike Kemmerling and Gordon Imrie, the gangsters, with Carol Newman as Lilli, Ross Anderson as Fred Graham and Roger Nicklaus as Harrison Howell.

Marcia Buege as Lois Lane and Pat McDonough as Bill Calhoun on Thursday night drew much applause for their performance.

(From left) Mary Ann Sharp as Lois Lane (Bianca), David Tedrahn as Bill Calhoun (Lucentia), Chris Carter as Harry Trevor (Baptista), Nancy Knoch and Renee Swift as members of the playing troupe, Randy Saar as Fred Graham (Petruchio), and Julie Whithrodt as Lilli Vanessi (Kate) brought the house down on Saturday night.

Orchestra places first in state contest for fourth consecutive year

Under the direction of Mr. Arnold Sklar, Concert Orchestra rated first this year in Class AA for the 4th consecutive time, thus establishing itself as one of the state's finest orchestral groups.

This year the orchestra presented a program of semi-classical music for Butler Elementary School in Oak Brook. Two assemblies featured the orchestra for HT students.

Outstanding members have contributed greatly to the success of the orchestra. Senior Randy Garber, first clarinetist, is a soloist with the West Suburban Community Orchestra. Jane Smaardyk, a member of the Great Chicago Youth Orchestra, has been Concert Mistress both her junior and her senior years. Orchestra originated at HT in 1924 when Mr. Theodore Knott established it. It was during this same period that Concert Band was formed. String teachers and emphasized junior high training were special interests of Mr. George Pixley, orchestra and band director of 1944.

Further junior high development was effective under the directorship of Mr. Kuhns. With the cooperation of Mr. Clifford Durman, junior high principal, additional teachers were hired on a full time basis.

Mr. Walter Nechoda followed as orchestra director. Two other directors conducted until Mr. Sklar came 4 years ago.

Spring Play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner", features large cast

Eccentric celebrity Sheridan Whiteside and his madcap entourage moved into HT's auditorium for two performances of the Spring Play, "The Man Who Came To Dinner", on April 5 and 6.

This George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart comedy tells the story of egomaniacal Sheridan Whiteside, a famous celebrity and radio star. He visits the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stanley in Mesalia, Ohio, while on a lecture tour and breaks his hip on their front door step. Confined to a wheel chair, he runs the whole house, forcing the surprised Stanley's to not use the phone, stay upstairs in the house unless absolutely necessary, and so forth.

Whiteside is known for his evil temperament and he lets his sharp tongue and quick temper fall on any who dares to cross him. His secretary, Maggie Cutler has fallen in love with Bert Jefferson, a newspaperman, in Mesalia. Sheridan, seeing this take place, brings in an old friend, glamorous actress Lorraine Sheldon to break up the romance. Maggie almost succeeds in getting rid of Lorraine, but it takes a wacky actor, Banjo, and an Egyptian mummy case to do that. Whiteside, who undergoes a change of heart, leaves the Stanley residence and falls again, "breaking his hip."

Whiteside's hip was never really broken. According to the dotty old doctor, Dr. Bradley, the wrong x-rays were read—Whiteside never had broken it. He decided not to let anyone know about it and stay on in Mesalia for a while to try to break Maggie up.

Intertwined with the main plot were numerous counterplots. June and Richard Stanley, the Stanley's children, under the guidance of Whiteside, leave home to seek their fortunes, Richard as a photographer, and June to get married to a labor organizer Mr. Stanley had forbidden her to see.

Whiteside has a running war with his nurse, the prim Miss Preen, and she finally walks out on the case in a huff.

Harriet Stanley, the nutty sister of Mr. Stanley, flits in and out, causing Whiteside to remark "Where have I seen that face before?" He finally remembers, and threatens Mr. Stanley, who has sworn out eviction papers on him, that his sister, Harriet Stanley, is none other than the famous ex-murderess Harriet Sedley had presumably arranged to keep secret.

The play was one of the more difficult to cast. There were thirty-five parts, a majority of them boys. Director Patte Maneese of the English Department, used four days for the tryouts to be sure of getting just the right people for the job. When it was finished she had selected John Mostek as Whiteside, Karen Susan as Maggie Cutler, Ross Anderson as Bert Jefferson, Marion Starling as Mrs. Stanley, Henry Doering as Mr. Stanley, Katie Thomas as Harriet Stanley, Laurel Neuberg as June Stanley, Steve DiFuira as Richard Stanley, Janet Blair as Miss Preen, and Al Bergstein as Dr. Bradley, and Kathy Kalber as Lorraine Sheldon.

Also selected for the cast were Craig Kubitschek, as John, the butler, with Beth Baker as his wife, Sarah, the cook. Professor Adolph Metz, an entomologist who brings Whiteside a present of 10,000 cockroaches to cheer him up, was played by Steve Carlson. Suave Britisher Beverly Carlton was played by Jim Wearne, and Doug Taylor was seen as Banjo. Westcott, a radio announcer and his assistants were portrayed by Paul Vjlacic and Mike McCullough respectively. Assorted convicts and expressmen were Dave Buhmann, Al Hector, Darryl Jones and Mike Paolinetti.

The play took much rehearsal to bring the final product to HT theatergoers. The cast worked each night after school for 5 weeks, most of the time until 5:30 or 6:00 at night. Lines and actions had to be coordinated and a feeling had to be developed for the play and the characters. Miss Maneese was assisted in this by student director Terri Cagney.

The set of the play was built under the direction of Mr. John Robertson, technical director, and members of his Theater I classes. Nick Miller was stage manager. Sharon Lasker, Chris Casady and Lucette DeKruyter were heads of make-up, costume and props crews. Publicity was under the charge of Carol Newman and Dean Ashford handled ticket sales.

Moderate crowds attended the play both nights and enjoyed it. After the play was over, happy cast mem-

Activities carried out by Latin Club

Latin Club began this year with a revision of its constitution. New committees were formed and old chapters were dropped. This clean-house project was essential since their constitution was about 30 years outdated.

Latin Club members promote "flower power" each year with a Daffodil Sale. They also constructed a booth at the Student Council carnival which sold roses, carnations, and daisies.

The money raised by these projects goes toward the traditional Roman Banquet. A week before the event first year students are auctioned as slaves. A king and queen are chosen to rule over the dinner which is eaten with ones fingers. Togas are worn and chariot races are held which add to the Roman spirit.

Each year students are chosen by the teacher to attend the state Latin contest. They are tested and the three highest scores are awarded first, second, and third

Wir wollen unabhängig bleiben

Der Deutschklub wurde 1958 unter der Leitung von Frau Barbara Porter gegründet. Während der letzten vier Jahre hat der Klub seine Mitgliedschaft ständig vergrößert, sodaß er jetzt sehr stabil ist.

Zum ersten Mal in der Geschichte des Klubs haben die Mitglieder ihren eigenen Festwagen ("Homecoming Float") selbständig ohne die Hilfe anderer Sprachklubs gebaut. Wie ein Mitglied es ausdrückte: "Wir wollen unabhängig bleiben." Als Thema des Wagens hatte das populäre Spiel "Mausefalle" gedient. Der Festwagen war originell konstruiert. Die Mausefalle hielt einen Glenbardspieler gefangen. Die Schiedsrichter sprachen dem Festwagen höchste Bewertung zu.

Für die Zukunft haben die Mitglieder des Deutschklubs einen ehrgeizigen Plan: Sie wollen einen Schüler während der Sommerferien nach Deutschland schicken und seine Reise finanzieren. Einzelheiten müssen noch ausgearbeitet werden. In die Kasse für dieses Projekt wandern Verdienste vom Stand bei dem jährlichen Karneval des Studentensenats Einkünfte von deutschen Theatervorstellungen und vom Verkauf von Stundenlutschern.

Beim Karnevalstand amüsierte man sich damit, Tischtennisbälle durch einen Irrgarten von Holzblöcken rollen zu lassen. Erreichte ein Ball das Tor, so gewann der Spieler einen Alpenhut.

Der Klub veranstaltete eine Weihnachtsfeier und plant weiter, deutsche Filme zu sehen und deutsche Restaurants zu besuchen.

Verantwortlich für den Klub sind: der Präsident — Mark Gjovik; der Vicepräsident — Dennis Butler; die Sekretarin — Mary Jo Wenkus; der Buchhalter — Bob Blouin; die Leiterin — Frau Gerda Hoover und Assistentin — Frau Janet Bozman.

German Club members consider sending a student to Germany during the summer.

"We plan to stay independent"

German Club was founded in 1958 under the leadership of a Mrs. Barbara Porter. In the last four years, it has been building its membership to a point where the club is very stable for its size.

For the first time in club history the members built a Homecoming float without the help of another language club. As one member said, "We plan to stay independent." The theme of the float was a take-off on the popular game, "Mousetrap".

The float was cleverly constructed with a Glenbard player caught in a trap. It received a top rating.

The ultimate goal of the club is very ambitious. They wish to eventually send a student to Germany for the summer. Since the idea was just recently introduced, plans are still in the making. Profits from the Student Council Carnival booth, German Theater performances and Tootsie Roll Pop sales will go into a fund for the project.

The carnival booth consisted of throwing ping pong balls into a cleverly constructed block maze. When the ball would fall into a certain hole, an Alpine hat was awarded the winner.

The club had a Christmas party and attended German movies and dinners. In charge of these activities were: President — Mark Gjovik; Vice-President — Dennis Butler; Secretary — Mary Jo Wenkus; Treasurer — Bob Blouin; Sponsor — Mrs. Gerda Hoover; and Assistant Sponsor — Mrs. Janet Bozman.

Mas miembros de el club de espanol

El Espanol fue introducido en Hinsdale en 1942. No sabemos la fecha de la fundacion del club de espanol, pero sabemos que habia un club en 1952. Incluyo estudiantes de segundo y tercer ano, y planearon actividades como un viaje a Mexico durante el verano.

Ahora el club esta abierto para todos los estudiantes del espanol. En el otono, vendieron cacahijetes y tambien tuvieron una fiesta de "chili".

Cerca de la Navidad hicieron un Nacimiento. Esto es una costumbre espanola en donde crean de nuevo la escena del Nacimiento de Jesucristo, y aveces incluyen objetos modernos como aviones, barcos, y trenes. Tuvieron una fiesta con una pinata para celebrar las vacaciones.

En el carnaval el quiosco de espanol fue un gran exito. Se tiraron esponjas mojadas a personajes famosos como: el doctor Adolphsen, el senor Tremblay, el entrenador Erikson y la senorita Dekan.

En la primavera, los miembros van a visitar un restaurante Mexicano. Tambien van a tener otra fiesta de "chili".

Spanish Club expands membership

Spanish as a language was introduced in 1942. The founding date of the club is unknown, but it is known that a Spanish Club existed in 1952. It was composed of second and third year students who planned activities like a trip to Mexico during the summer.

Now the club is open to all Spanish students. They planned a peanut sale and Chili party during the fall. At Christmas, they worked on a Nacimiento, a Spanish custom recreating the scene of the birth of Christ. Sometimes modern objects are included such as airplanes, boats, and trains. They had a pinata party to celebrate the Christmas season.

The club's sponge-throwing booth at the Student Council carnival was a big success. They threw wet sponges at faculty and students. Some of the faculty members thrown at were: Dr. Adolphsen, Mr. Tremblay, Coach Erikson and Miss Dekan.

For spring activities the members hoped to visit a Mexican restaurant for dinner. They had a chili party toward the end of the year.

The officers were: President — Peggy Collins, Vice-President — Paula Nemecek, Secretary — Julie Goldstein, and Treasurer — Cathy Green. The sponsors were Mrs. Murdock and Mrs. Shogar.

Le Cercle Francais vend du gui

Il y a longtemps que le Cercle Francais fait partie de la vie des etudiants. Parmi les activites passees, le Cercle compte des presentations de pieces, de films, et en 1959 un bal nasque.

Le Cercle n'est pas aussi actif que certains membres le desirent, mais il reussit dans un de ses buts: maintenir un interet a la langue et a la culture francaise. Une activite qui a eu beaucoup de succes cette annee a ete la vente de gui grace aux efforts des membres.

Pour augmenter les fonds de la tresorerie pour une activite printanniere, le Cercle avait un kiosque pendant le Carnaval du "Student Council". Il s'agissait de deviner le nombre de photos de Jean-Claude Killy, le champion olympique. Il y avait 137 photos dans un montage et la personne qui devinait le nombre, ou celle qui en etait le plus pres, gagnait $10. Margie Justus a devine 135 et a gagne.

Chaque annee le Cercle allait a un restaurant francais a Chicago. Cette annee le Cercle pense remplacer cette sortie par un pique-nique ou on servirait des plats francais et on jouerait certains jeux francais.

French Club sells mistletoe

French Club has long time been a part of the student body. Through the years it has sponsored such activities as plays, films, and in 1959, a Masquerade Ball.

The club is not as active as some members would like it to be. Yet it accomplishes its purpose of stimulating interest in the French language and culture.

This year the members cooperated in making their annual Mistletoe sale a success. A booth for the Student Council carnival was also constructed to raise funds for a spring event. The booth had 137 pictures of Jean Claude Kelly, a famous and very handsome Olympic skier, pasted on the inside. Ten dollars was awarded the person who came closest to guessing the correct number. A Sophomore won, guessing 135.

Each spring a trip is planned to a famous French restaurant. However, the idea of a picnic has been suggested where French foods and games would be sampled.

A new idea suggested by the members was a trip to the Soviet Union. Each one going would have to pay his own way but would travel on a pre-arranged route.

A trip a little closer to home is taken on the first Sunday of every month to the Clarke Theatre in Chicago to see Russian movies. A member commented, "These trips are fun and very rewarding."

Mr. Jeremy Mach, Publications sponsor, leaves H.T. this year to assume a position in a nearby junior college. Mr. Mach has been with H.T. for three years and has made some very deep friendships with the students on Courier and El Diablo staffs. His leadership was appreciated in this respect: he did not lead students around by the nose, but gave them the freedom to express themselves creatively. He made a big point of setting a new standard in Room 248: there one was judged not by social position or external indicators, but by effort and achievement. For this we thank him.

Courier sponsors school-wide letter of appreciation to G. I.'s in Viet Nam.

H.T.'s newspaper, the Hinsdale Courier, continued this year its policy of informative service to the students and faculty.

Begun in 1935, the Courier, formerly known as the HighTimes, has expanded from the four page newsprint issue to the eight page offset paper of today. Photography, not present in the early High Times, has been used with a great variety of events, experimenting with picture pages, and photo stories.

In addition, today's Courier makes use of advertising, color and art work to a greater extent than ever before in HT publication's history.

The first issue of the year, given free to all students, introduced the school year and the paper's policy. Other issues have featured stories on all school events and indepth studies of such problems as drinking, civil rights, and runaways.

Managed by Editor-in-Chief, Steve Young, a large staff of reporters and assistants turned out 20 issues of the paper.

Preparing the finished product is an involved process, which takes a good portion of the staff members' time. Chuck Beresky, Henry Doering and Joel Johnson, Managing, Features and News Editors, respectively, made the necessary assignments to the staff reporters, drawn mainly from advisor Jeremy Mach's Journalism classes.

Advertising, a big factor in the paper's financial success was managed by Brian Mc Kinney. Bob Hampel, political columnist turned business manager, jealously guards the funds of the Courier, which, at times, have approached near zero. Bob Stickler handled the sports editing until second semester when Jamie Yeretsky took over for the rest of the year.

Circulation was managed by Rick Pope and his assistant Randy Young, with John Mendenhall, Art Editor, and Gordon Brown, Photography Editor, handling the more creative ends of the publication.

The Courier involved itself in several major events this year. Under the guidance of Editor Young, over 700 H.T. students signed a giant Christmas letter thanking the American soldiers serving in Viet Nam for their dedication and sacrifice. The letter received wide press coverage and was seen and read by many GI's who deluged the Courier with letters of thanks.

Staff members journeyed to three conventions during the year. In the fall several editors of both the Courier and El Diablo attended the Illinois High School Press Convention in Champaign. Thanksgiving saw several of the staff at the National Convention in Chicago and Mr. Mach led several staff members to New York's Columbia Press Convention in March.

Capping the year was the annual press banquet, where next year's editors, Pat Hackney (El Diablo) and Courier's co-editors, Chuck Beresky and Dan Shirey were announced. Awards were presented.

Editor-in-Chief, Steve Young, assumed responsibility for content and quality of the Courier; yet, he stressed that the editor does not "make it go" alone.

A Publications Award Banquet was held at Stouffers Oakbrook on May 15, 1968.

Debate Team proves their own convictions

Students join debate to develop a logical mind, poise, initiative, and ability in extemporaneous and prepared speaking. Approximately twenty students, mostly underclassmen, have grown in each of these areas from participating on HT's Debate Team.

In actuality there are three different teams. They are novice, Junior Varsity, and Varsity. An award is given annually to the most outstanding debater on Class Day.

Captain Bob Hampe and sponsors Mrs. Dailey and Miss Paddison direct the weekly Thursday meetings.

Seniors, Bob Hampe and Jeff Roehl with Junior Tom Ashford constitute the Negative Varsity team. Steve Johnson and Laurel

Newburg, both sophomores take the affirmative side. Mark Handley and Lynn Glandt with Kevin Karplus are on their first steps to being members of the Varsity Team, they are the novice Debators.

The team has membership to two leagues. They are the Academic Debate League and the West Suburban Debate Conference. In the Des Plaines tournament they had a record of 6-2, while in the West Suburban Tournament it was 3-5. At the beginning of the school term the Novice Debators took 4th place in the York Invitational out of 40 contenders. The team placed sixth out of 15 debating teams in a close tournament.

Debate Club started at Hinsdale in the Early 30's. In 1937 on December 11, the club sponsored the first major invitational non-decision tournament to be held in Illinois's history for high schools. Teams from Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin agreed also to participate. Mrs. Gaunt, the debate instructor took charge of the event. 102 teams participated.

The annual International Debate was held at Ht in 1939 in the Gym during November. The topic was: The Possibility of Lasting Peace in a Nationalistic Europe.

From those early dates to the present the Debate Team has pertained a prominent position in quite a few interscholastic competitions.

Forensics Club offers recreation and understanding in oral interpretation

Forensics is one of the most unique groups at HT in that it is not an organized club. It has no officers, no business meetings, and collects no dues. It was founded in 1935 by Miss Stephenson and had 40 members.

"Forensics group is an informal gathering of students, who want to get together to improve their ability at oral interpretation." The members practice oral interpretation by bringing in their own written work or the work of an author that appeals to them. They then describe the point the author was trying to get across to the reader.

This year's group advisors were Mr. Lindon and Mrs. Osborne. The club membership varies from ten to twelve students.

Kathy Purcell and Mr. Lindon recite romantic poetry to each other.

Lisa Foltz and Mary Deely read a play during Forensics.

Yearbook emphasis on individual excellence as essential to aggregate success reflects H.T.

The sister organization to H.T.'s Courier is the El Diablo. Receiving its name from the Spanish word for "the Devil", it was chosen at the yearbook's beginning.

Although most of its support comes from yearbook sales at the beginning of the year, there must be provided a margin of safety. Before receiving financial coverage from the Board of Education, El Diablo had to be solely responsible for raising its own funds. Thus, it had to have as a large portion of its staff people to arrange money-making projects.

In 1946, class rings were sold for the first time by the yearbook staff to raise money for their edition. It was at this time the school seal "For God, For Country, For Community, For School" was incorporated to be inscribed upon the 10 carat gold rings. Therefore, the seal is represented on the cover of the 1968 edition, commemorating its 21st anniversary and marking this year as a time "to come of age."

The yearbook's purpose is not only to reflect the year's sports, faculty, students, and happenings, but also to set a new pace. Its long-range goal is to show where we are at as a school, and then suggest where we should be.

Furthermore, its staff wishes to portray with words and pictures their own philosophies of life. This year's main emphasis was an attempt to focus on individual accomplishment, in the light of performing to one's maximum ability with excellence.

As a more creative aspect of publications, the yearbook offers many outlets of expression to the student who has potential artistic, photographic, organizational, or literary ability. The students involved are able to display and improve their skills in these areas. Within a pre-established framework of journalistic requirements, they can create something entirely of their own style.

The yearbook took a largely experimental route this year: expansion to two parts, improvement of organization, broadening in creative aspects, increase of pictures and responsibility of taking a more serious view towards the total high school experience.

The yearbook staff has duties after every school day and usually over weekends. There is no limit to the amount of student assistance it could use.

Chipper Ashley and Marilee Melvin made most of the editorial decisions and set the theme. The nature of their work required the combination of organizational and creative skills they could offer.

Bob Stickler, Sports Editor, left the Courier staff in the middle of the year to assume fulltime duties on the El Diablo. He is also Sports Editor of the Hinsdale Doings.

Don Shute and Gordon Brown took 85% of all the pictures used in the El Diablo. Their skill has much improved from such incessant practice.

Chris Marie Longo gathered all the clubs' histories for surveys-in-depth this year. She will assume assistant editorial duties next year.

Courtney Ashley helped around the office by typing, gathering material and all the things needed to put this book together. She did the junior class section in Part I.

Henry Doering was responsible for the massive index. He also helped in typing copious amounts of copy. Here he is pictured at Mr. Mach's desk with Deborah Yetter, ad artist for the Courier.

Image, H.T.'s literary magazine, portrays in words the individual's emotion

Through Hinsdale's literary magazine, Image, the thoughts of a handful of students are portrayed vividly in language and in sketches. Finding its beginnings in the late 1940's, Image, then known as Sequins, encountered the serious problem of students plagiarizing other works. Image has always been faced with the factor of limited funds. From bake sales and carefully budgeting the proceeds from past magazine drives, the magazine has managed to stay in existence. And Image believes that as students come to realize their creative ability, more of them will be willing to write what they feel most deeply about . . . and in their own words.

The Image is a rather unusual set-up because it has no formal structure. Instead, each working member contributes their time and literary tastes to produce the few issues that are printed and distributed each year. These people edit and select the outstanding pieces of literature and art submitted by deposit in boxes in the library designated for that purpose.

Mr. Trembley sponsored the magazine during the 1967-68 school year.

Advanced Math Club initiates a new dating service

Before 1947, there was a club with no formal title that studied the slide rule and other engineering instruments such as the sextant and transit. The activities were under the direction of math teacher, Mr. Steubner.

From 1947 till the present, Mr. Takala has been the sponsor and the club has been titled, The Advanced Math Club. Mr. Takala teaches the advanced students in Math and college level Calculus to a small group of seniors.

The club has no definite agenda. It studies whatever the club members are interested in at the time. Topics have included spherical trigonometry, math puzzles, slide rule, and engineering instruments.

The course offered now at HT, Calculus had its origin from work done a few years ago by members of the club.

After the club started the Mathematical Association of America Contest, Mr. Randall co-sponsored the organization. Each year the club studies the preceding years MAA test which includes applications of Algebra and Geometry. Membership to this club is limited to those students who have taken at least Algebra II. Most of the boys and girls have excelled in mathematics and would like a better chance to increase their knowledge by solving and analyzing difficult problems.

The membership is increasing year by year and with this expansion new proportions are being pursued.

This year the club has become involved with the technical side of math, namely the innovation of the Math is so important in the fields of Science and Engineering, that this club is sure to benefit these young people and their futures.

Chessmen, proved masters of game

Chess Club was founded in 1959 under the leadership of Mr. Robert Hilsbeck. He organized a group of students interested in meeting after school for competitive play.

The foreign student at H.T. in 1959, Walter Koenig from Switzerland, helped to get Chess Club on its feet. He became an active member and participated in the planning and execution of their first chess tournament. It was modeled after the style of tournament play found in Switzerland.

Chess is not just a game, but a match against mathematical wits. At meetings the students may experiment with new maneuvers in addition to learning good sportsmanship. This year's president is; Tim Redman, vice-president is; Craig Kubitchek, secretary; Mike Purcell. Mr. Hilsbeck is still sponsor.

Bridge Club succeeds in spades.

One of the newer clubs to be organized at HT. is the Bridge Club. It was started only three short years ago by several seniors who wanted to play bridge after school. Since then students come in every day to play bridge.

The club's purpose is to teach students to play bridge and of course to play bridge. The club has been too interested in playing bridge to sponsor any activities in the past but they are seriously thinking of sponsoring a bridge tournament where duplicate bridge is played. There are two forms of bridge played. One is rubber bridge which is a regular game of bridge played with four players. Duplicate bridge is only played in tournaments.

Mr. Arthur Beyer has sponsored the club since its very beginning in 1965. The club meets every Wednesday under this year's officers: President Craig Kubitchek, Vice President-Tim Redman, Secretary-Rich Englkemier, Treasurer-Bob Samland. Many other of the twenty-five members meet in room 102 any day of the week to play a game of bridge which last until four or four thirty in the afternoon.

The Bridge Club is open to anyone who wants to play bridge.

Diane Murray is typical of the many members of Business Club who practice to perfect secretarial skills for later use in the business world.

Diane Murray is seen here demonstrating the project Business Club took charge of for the S.C. Carnival: body-painting.

Business Club provides preview look for future secretaries

Collecting toys, books and clothing for children at the Lutheran Orphanage, Addison, Illinois, at Christmas was the Business club. It was then called the Stenos Club, when it was started in 1947. Membership at that early date was restricted to only seniors and they must have been enrolled or completed Shorthand II and Secretarial Typing. Speakers and field trips were some of the programs that the Business Club had then.

Now the club meets on the first and third Wednesday's of each month. Two candy sales, one in December selling candy canes and one at June finals times provides the financial resources for the club. The club with this money has donated several water coolers to the school. Winter and Spring tours of offices were also a part of the years agenda.

Conducting the activities was the job of President, Diane Cuma and her right arm Laurel Weber, Vice President. Diane Murray was responsible for written correspondence and taking minutes at the meetings, since she was the secretary. Finances were handled by Treasurer Cynthia Scamardi, and social activities were planned by Debbie Ward. Diane Zettlemoyer handled publicity for all club sales and activities.

Business Club sponsor, Mrs. Dorway, teaches her girls the skills of stenography during the school day.

Future Teachers of America encourages students towards a career in education

"Student today-teacher tomorrow," is the route of a member of F.T.A. Future Teachers strives to instruct its members in the various fields of education and encourages others to become teachers.

F.T.A. began in 1954, under the guidance of Mrs. Cox and was chartered by the National Educational Association to interest high school students in the profession of teaching. The club was also referred to as the Harvey A. Flanders Club in honor of Harvey "Pop" Flanders, a former teacher at HT.

Although younger than many of the other clubs at HT, F.T.A. is one of the most active. A number of activities are done annually. Among these are selling programs at all home football games, a potluck dinner for past officers, trips to other schools for workshops and the tutoring program.

Each year, junior and senior members are eligible for cadet teaching. In this program they assist teachers at elementary schools in the surrounding area.

The program puts the student in the teacher's place and helps them to decide which field of education is most appealing to them.

One of the major projects this year was a Christmas Party given for a class of children at school in an under-privileged section of Chicago.

Other projects included a visit to a college, the distribution of apples to all the teachers during National Educational Week, the Teacher Superlative contest and the annual A.F.S. Teas for the foreign students during Variety Show weekend.

A membership drive was held in September. Membership fee was 50c. Anyone interested in the field of education was welcome to join. Officers this year were: Pat Anderson, President; Sue Andres, Cheryl Ostrihon, Carol Smetana, Sue de St. Aubin and Linda Michael.

F.T.A. President Pat Anderson led her club members in many interesting discussions on teaching techniques.

Home Ec Club members turn efforts towards charitable means

When the Home Economics Club was founded in 1950, its planned purpose was to send "Care" packages abroad.

Now, as then, the members take part in field trips, listening to interesting speakers, and planning parties, picnics, and fashion shows. The girls also turn their efforts towards charitable means such as making tray favors for the hospital. Any girl interested in home economics can join the club regardless of whether she is enrolled in a course or not.

Each year the club also finances a room improvement project for rooms in the Home Ec Department. Money is used to finance a scholarship for a girl planning to continue in the Home Ec field in College. The Betty Crocker Contest and the Crisco Trophy are sponsored by the club. Other awards are given.

This year's sponsor and assistant sponsor are Miss Ehrenhart and Mrs. Erikson respectively. The dues are 50¢ a year and the club now has thirty members. The Club had a Candy sale on Valentine's day, a Hamburger fry, a Christmas Party, and a make-up demonstration. At the end of the year they will have a Style Show and a picnic.

The 1967-1968 Home Ec Club officers are Rosalie Rayner, President, Joyce Burke, Vice President, Mary Pett Secretary, Danelle Havel, Treasurer, Sue Hemesy, Social Chairman, Bernadette Cihek, Program Chairman, and Fran Hoof, Refreshment Chairman.

Photo club is open to all students interested in photography, for school publications, contests, or just personal satisfaction. It has come a long way from the Early Camera Club started during the 1930's. Student interest decreased to almost nil until 1954 when Mr. Reeves reorganized the students into today's club.

The "dark room" offers a place for developing pictures. It was a chemistry room until 1936 when the camera club converted it. Money for equipment was raised by selling gum and candy at games.

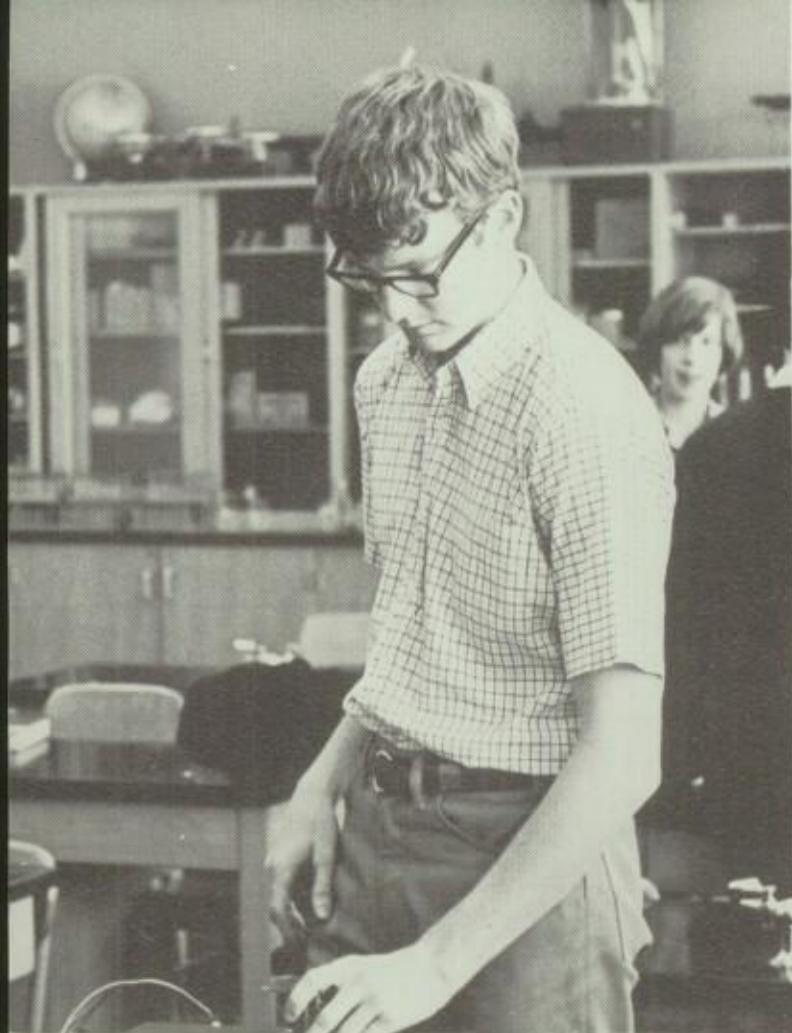

Members may individually enter contests, such as the National Scholastic Contest sponsored by Eastman Kodak. Entries are made at Wieboldts in Oak Park where they are judged. If a picture received a good rating it is sent to be judged on a national basis. Receiving top ratings in a contest like this is a great honor and HT can boast three winners in the past two years.

At the beginning of the school year a contest was held where anyone could enter a picture for a charge with the chance of winning cash prizes. Since the students didn't want to get involved, money was not collected to cover the prizes. The contest was discontinued with the disappointment of the members.

HT history teacher, Mr. Capps sponsors the club's activities. His hobby on the side is photography and feels that there is something to be gained by everyone who involves himself. He encourages girls to enter this field and see through pictures what they are missing.

This years meetings were under the leadership of president, Kevin Tracy.

Physics Club works with minds

Physics Club has a recent birth. It was originated in September of 1967 by students in the advanced physics program, P.S.S.C. Recently it has been enlarged to include all students enrolled in a Physics course. The club, although small in membership, conducts weekly meetings. In these meetings reports of various aspects of atomic physics are presented.

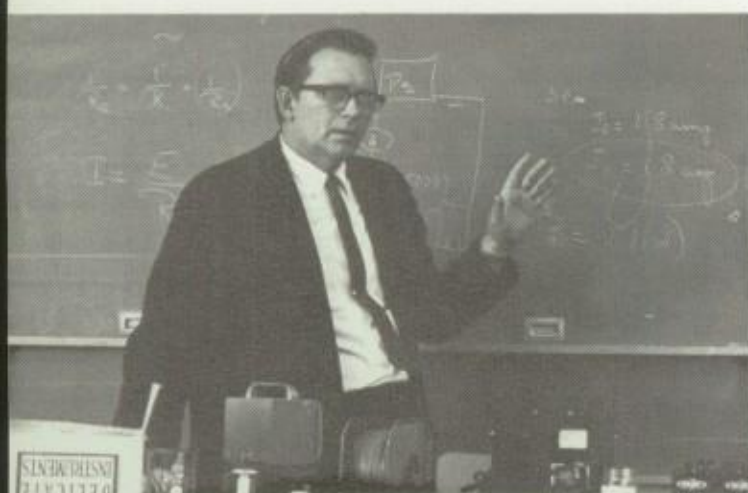

These reports were to help students prepare for their trip to the Argonne National Laboratories in January. Members have worked experiments that related to class work, and carried concepts learned in the classroom a step further.

The club spent a period of time studying the laser and entered a booth in the Student Council Carnival to help raise funds for the club. The sponsors are the two Physics teachers. Mr. Barnes teaches the advanced Physics students, while Mr. Valentine, the other sponsor teaches the regular program. Mr. Valentine, a new addition to the faculty this year, is well liked by students and members alike for his good sense of humor and original ideas. Working along with the sponsors are the officers, Steve Keyser, Chairman; Doug Borsom, Director; Jim Perkins, Vice-Chairman.

Although Physics Club is so new to HT's extracurriculum, it has formed a good foundation to build upon.

Aquaettes paint the year's success in "Watercolors"

Fifty girls and twenty alternates compose HT's synchronized swimming club, Aqua-Ettes.

Originally, Aqua-Ettes was a part of GAA. They provided financial assistance to produce the first few shows, the first one occurring in March, 1958. Aqua-Ettes became independent of GAA in 1963.

Besides the water show this year, Aqua-Ettes also sold candy to help raise money for the show. The club also participated in the Student Council Carnival selling balloons.

Tryouts in September determined the club's membership. Regular practices were held on almost every Monday and Wednesday up until about two months before show time. Tryout scores also determined what act the girls were placed in.

"Watercolors" was the theme of the 1968 show, held on May 9, 10, 11. Mr. Tim Murphy, Audio-Visual director and his crew taped many of the practices, enabling the girls to see their mistakes. Practices were long and often tiring, but many can attest to the quality of the finished product.

The senior members did a black light number, Sissy Knorr and Karen Kerner teamed up for a duet, as did Cookie Streicher and Linda Verner. Also in the show were yellow birds, purple spacemen, the alternates with their pink parasols dancing on the deck, and a kaleidoscope of floating patterns. Soloist for the 1968 show was Linda Verner, who did a beautiful water ballet to the "Impossible Dream."

At the end of the show the girls voted on the best act and the winning act was announced at the banquet. The members of the act had their names engraved on a plaque and each received small individual plaques. This tradition was begun in 1965. New officers were also named at the banquet. The banquet was held May 28, at Arley's.

For the second year in a row, Miss Anne Katzmann was the club's sponsor and advisor. Wendy Kodat served as President; Sissy Knorr as Vice-President; Ellen Schaible as Treasurer; and Barbara Stickels as Secretary.

Girl Reserves is HT's largest girls club boasting over 700 members.

All girls were invited to join during the membership drive held in September and participate in the club's activities. Meetings were held in the speech lab this year due to the tremendous increase in attendance at the weekly Thursday meetings.

GR was founded in 1941 and was then a branch of the YWCA. The activities included; service, arts, crafts, music, drama and self-improvement. There were 225 members with Helen Howe presiding as the first president. Her projects included the Red Cross, which made books for soldiers, and the Caney Creek Project, which collected used books for deprived children. GR also helped buy a Christmas tree for the school.

In 1942, the money earned was used to send to recreation camps, sponsored by the YWCA. The Big and Little Sister Program also began at this time for the freshman girls.

By 1943, GR was acclaimed to be the largest girls organization. It was also during this year that a bake-in was scheduled for the service men.

A Talent Show was given in 1945 in which students sang or played various instruments. They also held a bazaar in the spring. The profits amounted to $300 which was put towards a scholarship fund.

GR's major purpose of service to the school and community has remained unchanged during the years.

The first event of the year is the Big and Little Sister Tea held before school begins where the upperclass girls take a freshman girl to the school to buy her books and become acquainted with her new school. Also during September there was the Big and Little Sister Pow Wow before the Maine East football game. In October the club was mainly concerned with the building of a Homecoming float. GR members also served as ushers for certain school events. In December the club decorated the pediatrics ward at the Hinsdale San for Christmas, went carolling for the Hinsdale Humane Society, and sang at the Shank Rest Home. GR also sponsored two bakesales to give members a chance to earn points.

This year's Spring Assembly sponsored by G.R. brought Colonel John H. Glenn, Jr. to H.T. to recount his space journey. Most students felt this assembly was the most memorable and worthwhile one of the year, indicated by the unusually courteous audience.

The Spring formal, "A Touch of Silver" was highly successful. Board members and off-board members put in many hours of work and planning for this event. This was G.R.'s main money-making project of the year. Proceeds from the dance are set aside for three G.R. Scholarships presented on Class Day. At the Class Day Award Assembly on May 29th, Social Chairman Mary Tierney announced the winners of these scholarships, given on behalf of dedication and service to the club. Barb Stickles was awarded a $500 scholarship and two $300 scholarships were presented to Honey Mason and Jane Thatcher.

Sadie Hawkins Dance is also backed up by G.R. At the dance, Mar-ryin' Sam (Ken Koranda) was presented, as was the Dogpatch King, Bud Braid, and his four attendants, Keith Courtney, Randy Balhorn, Mark Hardy and Randy Hartanov.

Board elections for the coming year were held on May 25 and the new Board was announced at the banquet.

This year G.R. was capably led by President Jane Thatcher, Vice-President Barbara Stickels, Secretary — Sue Snedeker, Social Chairman — Mary Tierney and Treasurer — Sissy Knorr. Sponsors were Miss Ann Christianson and Mrs. Lorraine Gawlik.

Seventy Hinsdale Guards teach and promote swimming throughout the school and community

The Hinsdale Guard Organization was formed in 1958 by Mr. Jerry Farmer. At that time the Hinsdale Central Pool was not yet built, but plans for its construction were under way. In order to prepare for the new swimming program which was to eventually exist, Mr. Farmer took a group of interested students to the North Central College pool where the first Guards, about ten in number, were taught lifesaving and simulated teaching skills. When the H.T. pool was finished, about February in 1958, the Guard was prepared to organize and begin instructing physical education classes and the Saturday Swim School.

The Hinsdale Guard was directly patterned after the New Trier East Guard, which has now been in existence for about thirty years. Although H.T. has made some changes, its Guard is basically the same as the original organization.

The purpose of the Guard is generally to teach and promote swimming throughout the school and community. Its membership today consists of approximately seventy Hinsdale High School boys and girls who volunteer their time and abilities. Besides teaching approximately 1500 children annually how to swim and aiding in the instruction of the high school P. E. classes, their job also involves officiating at all home meets and enthusiastic cheering at home and at the away meets.

The Guard's primary activities are building a float for the Homecoming parade, presenting an annual water show, and organizing an all-school street dance. The show is performed, financed and produced entirely by the Guards themselves. They also take complete charge of running the annual street dance. The profits from the show and the dance are used to purchase such things as pictures and frames of the State champions, awards for certain meets, special equipment for the pool, and various other necessities or special donations.

Each year a boy and girl Head Guard and their assistants are chosen from the junior class to run the organization during their senior year. The 1967-68 Boys Head Guard is John Gasper with Assistant Steve Clegg. Girls Head Guard is Linda Verner with Assistant Lynn Stengel. Treasurer is Linda Mertz. The sponsors play a tremendous part in the guidance of the Guard. They are Coaches Don Watson, Leif Erikson and Bob Hopkins.

Guard applicants may try out for the club in the spring of their Freshman year. They must pass written and practical lifesaving tests, have at least a 3.0 grade average, a good counselor recommendation, and have participated in the various Guard functions throughout the year.

H-Club promotes sound sportsmanship ideals

The purpose of H-Club, Hinsdale Central Lettermen's Club, is to promote sportsmanship in the interscholastic program of athletics by doing the following things: first, raise the standards of athletics at Hinsdale Central; second, promote sound sportsmanship ideals; third, make the wearing of a letter have meaning and to bring the wearer of that letter to a realization of the great tradition of athletics at H.C.T.H.S.

H-Club also assists in the responsibilities of conducting the athletic events at school. Finally, they assist the Athletic Department in the observance and maintenance of the Athletic Code.

H-Club's history dates back to 1941. Coach Dickenson started the club to raise the standards of athletics at HT. During that first year, H-Club accomplished a great deal. Letter sweaters were obtained, a place card of old track records was placed in the locker room, and a project was started to improve the trophy cases.

Any boy who has earned an interscholastic letter at HT can join the club upon payment of a membership fee.

This year the club sold balloons at home football games, had an all school mixer in November and sponsored a mixer after a basketball game. They also sponsored a booth at the S.C. Carnival.

The principle jobs of the H-Club members are to work at games in which they do not play on a team, check coats, run the hospitality room at home games, hold ropes to keep people off the court between halves and serve as host to visiting teams.

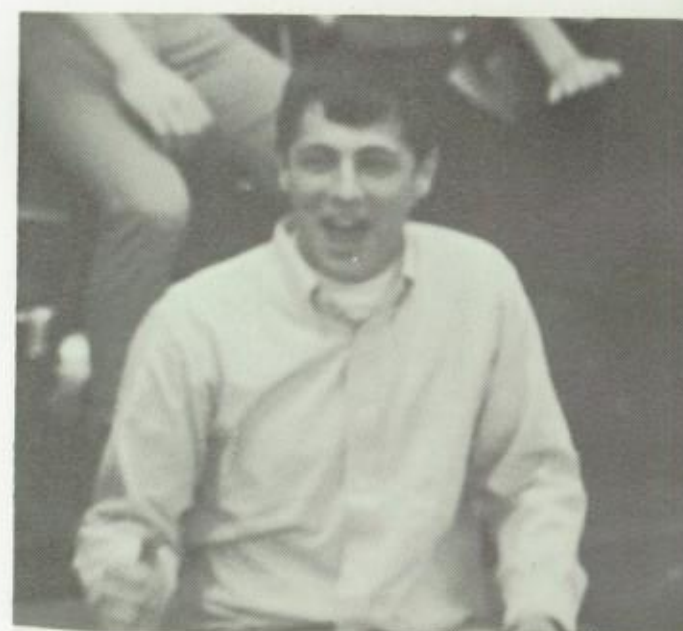

This was a great year for athletics at H.C.T.H.S. and individual lettermen proved to be an integral part of making it a great year by encouraging the aims of H-Club.

The sponsors of the club are Coach Stode and Coach Canino. The executive officers were headed by Paul Fredrickson, President and Dave Stone, Vice-President. Finances were handled by Jim Ruff, Treasurer, while Roy Hart took care of written correspondence as Secretary of the organization. Dances, mixers and other events were planned by Social Chairman, Skip Kerty.

Jamie Yeretsky, COURIER sports editor and letterman, serves the school by relating to the school the week-by-week sports events.

Outstanding athletes, the lettermen help the school in sports and with service.

N.H.S. provides "profitable services for fellow students"

Members of National Honor Society are selected by the faculty from those students receiving a 4.0 grade average or better. Character, citizenship, and service are also taken into consideration. There are approximately 60 members in NHS every year.

National Honor Society was originated by the National Association of Secondary School Principals in 1921 to give proper recognition to students who have maintained high standards of scholarship and service. The chapter has functions as an independent club within the school.

NHS shoulders many responsibilities. In the past, this group has contributed a television, organized the independent study program, established a tutoring service and attempted to realize an exam exemption policy. Tutoring was directed this year by Susan Blair, Publicity by Anne La force, and Jim Perkins handled the sales of books in the Book Nook, also sponsored by the club.

The Book Nook was founded about 6 years ago by Mrs. McAllister and a group of students interested in making paperback literature available to the school.

The first meetings were spent deciding what books would be best to buy. Book reviews and group discussions were also part of the program.

In the beginning, the store was set up in what is now the audio-visual room. The students ran the managing of the store themselves. Unfortunately, the records were poorly kept and pilferage was high. Five cents profit was made on the sale of each book; therefore, the source of income was low. The club still managed not to go into the red.

In 1965, the National Honor Society took over the management of the Book Nook, and it moved to its present location, right near the bookstore and cafeteria. N.H.S. has done a tremendous job in boosting the Book Nook's profits. Now the Book Nook receives twenty cents profit on the sales of a book.

National Honor Society meets in S.H.E. on alternating Wednesdays at 7:30 A.M.

The Book Nook deals with England distributors. The company has set up a committee to judge what the best literature for high school students is, so the club will no longer have to decide.

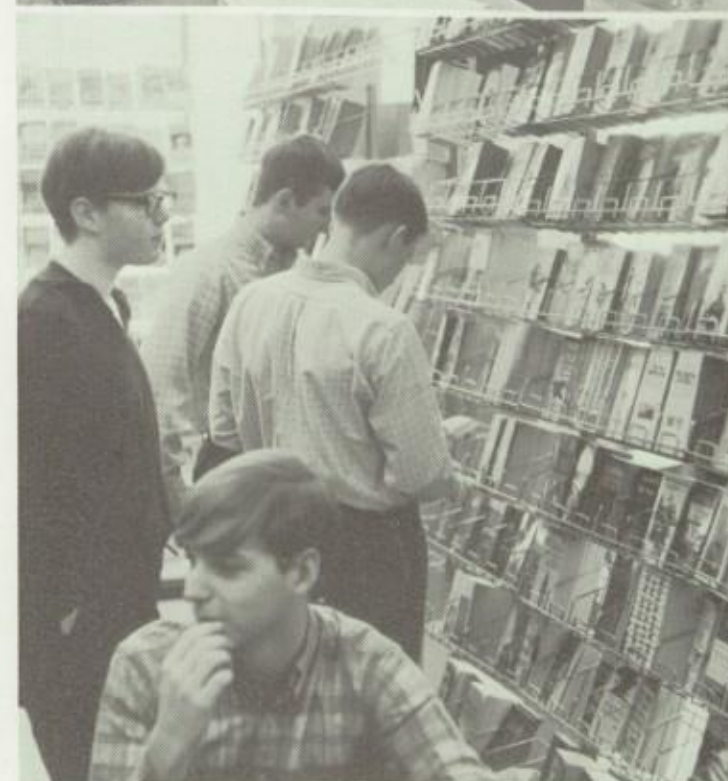

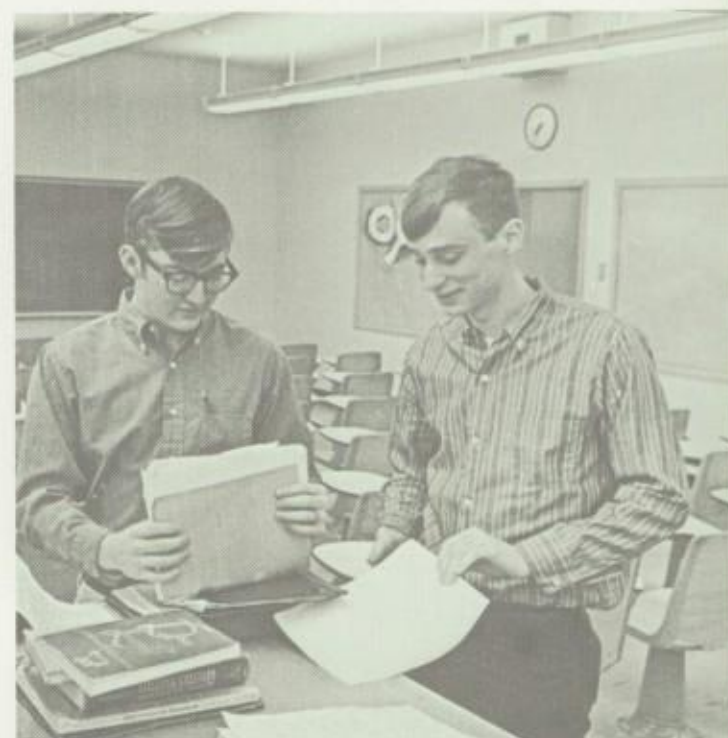

Because the school needs extra classrooms, the Book Nook will have to move. Plans are being made to have portable stands that can be wheeled around and then opened like a book with a flip-down counter.

New innovations have set the pace in the once dismal room. Students during lunch may go into a delightful atmosphere to browse through a wide selection of books under many topics.

The once bare walls are covered now with posters of favorite recording stars, and entertainers. Students while glancing at the titles are often tapping the foot and enjoying the pop music played on the radio during the lunch period. All members are required to give some of their time to the Book Nook either in the selling or managing departments.

Jim Bender presided over the Wednesday meetings held at the early hour of 7:30 in the morning. Donald Blaine stepped in if Jim could not make it, since he held the Vice-Presidential position. Secretary Anne Cook recorded the minutes of each meeting, and took care of writing invitations and correspondence. With the Book Nook's income being what it was, Chris Brandt, Treasurer, balanced the budget and kept accurate and clear accounts.

N.H.S. has reason to be proud of its services and success.

Varsity Club boasts H.T.'s largest membership, boosts school spirit

In the year of 1940 a new innovation was created at H.T. This great innovation was the forming of what was known as the Pep Club. Pep Club, then, was a segregated outfit. The girls and boys both had their own little "clubs" but both had the idea of promoting school spirit. The boys attempted to perform at games by impersonating cheerleaders. The girls held dinners before each game.

In 1941, the Girls Club had earned enough money from all of their efforts to buy a scoreboard, clock and timer. They also hosted the football team at one of their dinners for fathers and sons.

Eventually, the cheerleaders were chosen by Pep committees on Student Council. In 1956 another great innovation came about. The Pep Club and the H-Club merged to form what is now called Varsity Club. Thus, Hinsdale was on its way to be a school brimming with spirit.

This year's executive board was headed by Janice Bujan, Peter Danly as Vice-President, Mike Kemmerling as Treasurer and Leslie Scott as Secretary. Once a week this group of spirit seekers met with their peers to concoct activities. This year they presented many activities to H.T. students. The first was the Homecoming Dance. Social Chairmen, Anne Stege and Tom Cross were behind the planning of this social gathering. The theme was "The Game of Love".

Another of Varsity Clubs various branches was the food committee. This group was in charge of selling concessions at home basketball games.

Since Varsity Club is such a busy club and so many of H.T.'s students are involved, it must have representatives to relate information to their classes. A boy and girl are chosen from each class in the Spring to be the message relayers the following year. This year's ones were Seniors Pat Murphy and Charlie Nieman, Juniors Bill Kimball and De De Cuchna, Sophomores Courtney Morris and Paul Mueller and Freshmen John Embree and Joanne Mack.

The spirit leaders themselves, the cheerleaders and pom pon girls are sponsored by Varsity Club.

With all these activities, a club as busy as this must have a sponsor. This year they were Mr. Whalgren and Mr. Murrison.

Thanks to this club, H.T. has been provided with many activities. Varsity Club has done well at achieving its goal and will continue to do so because of individual excellence in performance.

Janice Bujan, President, and Leslie Scott, Secretary, discover $400 must be spent on new pom-pon uniforms.

Y. C. A. positive approach to problem-solving

Today's Youth Citizens Association, colloquially known as YCA, began when a group of Hinsdale students, led by Mrs. Daniel O. Head, attended a meeting sponsored by the LaGrange Y.M.C.A. to discuss teenage values, particularly in the areas of the "Three D's: Driving, Dating, and Drinking." The ten students, impressed by the presentation, asked for help in organizing a similar group to discuss and promote the general welfare of teens in the HT school district.

With the help of the Citizen's Advisory Group on Youth Problems, the first YCA was set up. All during the summer planning committee members met to work out procedures, bylaws, etc. The first meeting of the new organization was held on September 13, 1963 with a panel on vandalism and the youth.

The YCA of 1968 has changed little from its original structure. Now, in addition to discussions, the YCA sponsors such activities as the Youth Jury, the Bicycle Education Committee for young children, and the Teen Tent at the Fourth of July Carnival.

This year, YCA sponsored all these activities. Led by Chairman Bob Hampel, YCA also sponsored a session for Jr. High youth to discuss the problems at the junior high. This led to increase community action and an attempt at solving the problem. Other programs, under the direction of Program Director Henry Doering, were a talk by radio personality Jerry Williams, and discussions on teenage values, and sex. Also planned were student council candidate debates and an annual meeting.

YCA Board consisted of the above and Joel Johnson, Vice-Chairman, Rose Reip, Membership, Cathy Chandler, Secretary, Debbie Depner, Youth Jury Chairman and Treasurer, Linda Schilling, Bicycle, Sue Head, Recreation and Pat Hackney, Publicity. The adult adviser to the group was Mr. Roy F. Deng, Jr., of Hinsdale, a member of the Citizens Advisory Group.

Student bands got a chance to perform before crowds on weekends.

Steve Lawton, Youth Center board member, converses with a parent chaperone. The Youth Center Board greatly appreciates these men and women who spend an evening at the Center.

"Variety" now key to Youth Center's thrust: New Youth Center site decided upon, funds appropriated Youth Center is a common meeting place for H.T. students. Most heavily populated by underclassmen, the Center has featured a live band every weekend during the year.

Founded in 1955, the Hinsdale Youth Center looks forward to its 13th year of existence. However, plans for a new Youth Center building have been sought and completed. One reason for this reconstruction is a desire for more space.

After considering a dozen sites over the past three years, a new location has finally been decided upon. The new Youth Center will be situated on Grant Street, 150 feet south of 57th Street, near HT.

Throughout its history, the Youth Center has been established in several different places. One previous location was at the old Hinsdale Power Plant, another at the old Federal Bank, and for the past eight years, in the Community House.

The Youth Center in 1968 has started another new project, a Party Committee. The purpose of this committee is to add variety to the Youth Center's program. This committee already has sponsored the Y.C. Carnival, the Hippie Party, and the Mistletoe Party, the latter replacing the traditional Williamsburg Ball.

A traditional project, the class capers, has continued this year, but on a smaller scale than in the previous years.

This year's Youth Center members found their leadership from Ken Koranda, President; Sky Baab, Vice-President; Larry Grandy, Treasurer; Ann Stege, Recording Secretary; and Lissy Raymond, Corresponding Secretary.

Youth Center's chaperones are Mrs. Humphreys and Mrs. Montgomery.

In Memoriam

Dr. Bernard Oosting
1918-1967

The late Dr. Bernard Oosting, Superintendent of Business of the Board of Education and his daughter Clare who was part of the Class of '68, met an untimely end last December in a car accident while returning from a holiday visit at Clare's grandmother's house. Mrs. Oosting and her son survived the collision.

To the people at H.T. who knew Clare and Dr. Oosting this came as a deep personal tragedy. Soft-spoken Clare with her outstanding example of good citizenship and scholarship left many friends behind who searched for an answer as to why she should be taken. Clare was one of those girls who would not barge her way into any relationship, but would offer her time and her many talents to purposes she felt most worthwhile. One girl was overheard remarking when students returned to the news on January 3, "Why, just before vacation I saw her on stage with the Madrigals. I can't believe she's not there anymore. It will seem empty, sorta' . . .".

It seemed empty, too, to the food service staff. The cafeteria ladies said they would never forget how busy Dr. Oosting would always stop to talk to them on his morning visits through H.T. He would remember their names and established warm relations through his genuine concern for their welfare. The cafeteria staff set up a Dr. Bernard Oosting Memorial Scholarship (awarded to Brian Rugg in 1968), which clearly demonstrated the effect this gentleman had on these lives.

The Buildings and Grounds Staff felt he was among the finest of men. He would sit every morning with them and discuss maintenance problems. He was always very attentive to their ideas.

It is hard for us as people learning how to live to understand why two who were doing such a good job at it had to die. Was there a purpose?

In Clare's and her father's lives, a purpose was evident. We of the 1968 El Diablo believe they constantly strove "to maximum with excellence." We also believe that instead of their passing on being an end, it was a beginning to a much better life and real freedom. As a school and a community we are saddened at their death. It seems best, however, not to turn inward to self-centered despair but to follow their example to live life to the fullest. If we will do this, their death will not have been in vain.

"One life, — a little gleam of Time between two eternities."

Class of 1968 honors scholars and superlatives

The Class of 1968 distinguished itself in many ways throughout its four years at H.T. Many honors were heaped upon the seniors, some humorous, others befitting the stature of the recipient. To be sure, however, the Class of 1968 was a group that worked as a part to make the whole better.

Besides those pictured here, awards were won by the following, who do not appear due to space limitations. They too, deserve what they have received, even though they are not pictured. They include:

Mary Helen Kryda, Valedictorian and Latin scholar, Carol Boucek, Salutarian and French scholar, Steve Bayer, Latin Contest winner, Jim Bender, N.H.S. President and voted as "Most Likely to Succeed." Also, Becky Bates as Class Flirt, Church Lewis as Class Wolf, and Gary Lauerman as Friendliest. Distinguishing themselves in languages were Joe Shuster in Russia and Pat Anderson in Spanish. The Senior Class had much to be proud of and they displayed this pride in all they did.

Over $6000 in scholarships awarded to Seniors

Lucy Moore, Barb Gilbert, and Melissa Mohr came to the Sr. Breakfast to get a bite to eat and talk with classmates.

Gloom settled upon H.T. as irresponsible destruction of the courtyard, estimated at $1000 was discovered in the morning drizzle.

Senior Randy Garber soloed a clarinet number during intermission.

Ellen Greaves, former president of G.A.A. was awarded the G.A.A. scholarship.

Prom and post-prom end a "very good year"

(Courtesy of The Courier)

Senior Prom and post prom both turned out to be smashing successes enjoyed and appreciated by everyone involved.

The general consensus of those who attended the two functions was that it was superbly handled by the kids and chaperones both.

Dancing, with music provided by "The Bangor Flying Circus" rock group and Mr. Walter Major's band, lasted from 8:30 to midnight. Held at the Drake Oak Brook Hotel, only one senior couple failed to show up, of those who had bought tickets. A number of senior men made use of the pool facilities at the Drake when they jumped in, fully attired in summer formals.

At about 11:30 the dance floor began to clear as the people going on Post Prom went home to change.

After checking-in in front of the high school, the Post Promers boarded buses which took them to Union Station. After stepping into a special Milwaukee Road train, the students were provided with music by the Reste, food and drink, and poorly lit coach cars, provided by the friendly Milwaukee Road conductor.

About five hours later, the seniors arrived in the Wisconsin Dells amidst fog and cold weather. But as soon as the buses unloaded the mob of seniors on the small, unassuming Chula Vista complex, the weather warmed, the sky cleared, and it wasn't long before the majority of the kids could be located by the swimming pool. Among the other activities which seniors participated in were a rather hayless hayride down Route 42, hiking along the Wisconsin River, and giving the larger tour boats passing through "Lovers Lane" a show which earned the passage its title.

The entire group arrived back at the high school, tired but happy, that they had been participants in the Class of 1968 Senior Prom, "It Was A Very Good Year."

Class board member Tom Payne was one of many who contributed to the effort.

Any editor producing a book runs into problems. To solve these problems, I have had the help of people outside of the Journalism Department. I would like to thank Mr. Gaylord, Mrs. Gillespie for her computer lists, Mrs. Smith, and especially Mrs. Raymond. Without Mrs. Raymond's support in sales and distribution, this book would have suffered tremendously.

This was truly a student book. The freedom Mr. Mach gave us was both a blessing and, at times, a curse. I want to thank him for everything he did for us. The Walsworth representative, Mr. Moorehead, cooperated magnificently with us and I thank him. I thank too, the many individuals behind-the-scenes at the Walsworth Publishing Company who helped make the ideas we had become a physical, communicative reality.

The people who worked on these volumes are mentioned in the El Diablo section. I couldn't list them all here, but I thank them just the same. A few deserve special mention. These people put in more long hours than I can remember on the production and creation of this book. I love them all: Gordon Brown, Henry Doering, Laura Kennelly, Chris Marie Longo, Bob Stickler and Marilee Melvin. I want to say that Marilee did more to shape this El Diablo than anyone else.

Christopher.
